

Pitched Battle Being Waged On Reds In Malaya

SINGAPORE (CP)—Gurkhas, experienced jungle fighters of the Burma campaign, and detachments of the Malay Regiment advancing under R.A.F. Spitfire cover, reached Malayan Communist stronghold, today despite insurgent resistance.

The force had advanced nine miles south from British-held Guamusang testing insurgent strength in the South Kelantan area, reported to be the centre of Communist resistance.

Insurgents who Tuesday ambushed a military column with machine-gun fire and rifle fire three miles north of Pulai, in South Kelantan, have killed one Gurkha, according to official reports reaching Kuala Lumpur.

This is an area where the insurgents are believed to be trying to gain enough territory to hoist the red flag and proclaim the first Communist republic in "state" in Malaya.

Entrenched on both sides of the road, the guerrillas held up the column for a time, but it later drove ahead supported by cannon and rocket-firing Spitfires.

Two Chinese women, wounded by a rocket that was accidentally fired from a Spitfire as it took off from an airfield here, died in hospital, bringing the death toll in two such accidents in the last four days to four, all women.

The R.A.F. is investigating the incidents which are believed to be caused by a short circuit in the rocket-firing electrical equipment.

Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner in southeast Asia, said Tuesday night the Communist timetable had called for proclamation of a Communist republic of Malaya Tuesday. Instead, the insurgents are "licking their wounds in the jungle."

British military offensives disrupted the timetable, MacDonald said. He felt Britain now could hold the initiative and could restore peaceful conditions in a few months.

Conciliation Board In I.W.A. Dispute

The Labor Relations Board today announced a conciliation board will act in the dispute between the I.W.A. and logging operators.

William Fraser, senior conciliation officer of the Department of Labor, recommended this action after conferring with the two parties and finding that disagreement still exists.

The union and Stuart Research Service Limited of Vancouver which is representing the employers, now will be asked to name representatives on the conciliation board.

Slander Writ Asks $100,000 Damages

SASKATOON (CP)—A writ asking $100,000 damages has been served on Premier T. C. Douglas by Walter Tucker, leader of the Liberal Party in Saskatchewan.

Counsel for Mr. Tucker launched action against Mr. Douglas May 12 for damages arising out of a speech by the premier at Rosthern, Sask., the previous night, during the provincial election campaign.

The writ was served on the premier Tuesday. Mr. Tucker alleges he was slandered by Mr. Douglas during the Rosthern speech.

Ottawa Palace Plan Interests Britain

LONDON (CP)—British sources are interested in reports the Ottawa Board of Control has under study a proposal to set aside a 50-acre park there for a Royal residence. But they could not speculate as to when the King and Queen would be able to spend a yearly period in the Canadian capital.

Ever since Prime Minister King said he looked forward to their Majesties residing in Ottawa part of each year, sources here have reiterated this is a logical expectation. When it will be possible is another matter.

Giant 'Glad's' Feature Of Show

Eight-year-old Teddy Trueman, 58 Howe Street, portrays the size of two of the giant spikes on display at the Victoria Gladiolus Society's second annual show, which opened in the Crystal Garden today. The display of 300 entries, plus several commercial exhibits, will be open to the public until 9:30 this evening and from 10 to 9 Thursday, at which time the blooms will be auctioned off.

B.C. Liberals Want Best Man Available As Leader

By FRANK SWANSON
Victoria Times Special Convention Correspondent

OTTAWA—As delegates to the National Liberal Federation convention streamed into Ottawa from all parts of Canada, it appeared today that more than 70 per cent were uncommitted so far as selection of a new leader is concerned.

At the same time it appeared virtually certain that it would take more than one ballot to decide the eventual winner when actual voting starts Saturday afternoon in the Coliseum.

There had been talk that Hon. C. G. Power, wartime Minister for Air and aspirant for the leadership, would reconsider and not allow his name to stand for voting. Today there were positive indications that Mr. Power plans nothing like this.

MOVEMENT FOR MARTIN

At the same time there was a movement afoot to nominate for the leadership Health Minister Paul Martin and preparations today were going forward for the actual placing of his name into the nomination. A good deal will depend on developments between now and Saturday afternoon, however, as to whether Martin's name will be on the nomination list.

Supporters of Agriculture Minister James Gardiner were redoubling their efforts to gather in all the support possible. The Gardiner campaign so far is the most aggressive and voluble and backers are in the market for every vote they can muster.

With only a few hours remaining until the great convention meets tomorrow morning for the first time, organization tempo redoubled.

As every train, bus and carload of delegates arrived here during the day, interest and speculation in the leadership race grew until it was practically the only topic of conversation around the lobbies of the Parliament Buildings, in hotel rooms and on the streets.

MANITOBA'S FAVORITE
One delegation which was known to favor strongly the nomination of External Affairs Secretary St. Laurent arrived during the afternoon. It was the 97-man Manitoba group led by Premier Stuart Garson, which arrived in a body.

Garson's name has been mentioned frequently for the leadership, but the fact is he is a St. Laurent admirer and his name will not go far in any balloting if the chances of the French-Canadian minister continue to appear as bright as they are now.

British Columbia's delegates were committed to no one and were proud of the fact. They wanted the best man available. That was all.

But it was the great bulk of the delegates that constituted the $64 question so far as the leadership voting was concerned. Although delegates might say they would vote this or that way, the balloting will be secret and delegates will be able to vote freely as their conscience dictates when the actual event takes place on the last day of the convention.

DO NOT KNOW

By far and away the greatest majority of those arriving for the convention were saying they did not know who would be the leader and insisted their votes were not pledged in any direction.

If that is the case—and there is every reason for thinking this to be a true state of affairs—the race may still be wide open and far from a cut-and-dried affair.

Aside from this fact, there was still more St. Laurent talk about than for any other possible candidate. They were not taking any bets in the Coliseum but indications were that the distinguished External Affairs secretary would go into the start of convention proceedings about a two to one favorite to succeed his retiring leader, Prime Minister King.

Canadian Cagemen Drop Second Game To Brazil, 57 To 35

LONDON (CP)—Canada lost a chance for the Olympic basketball championship today when the strong Brazil team defeated the Canadians 57 to 35.

It was the second reverse for the Canadians, who dropped a 37 to 36 decision to Hungary last Monday. They won their first two games against Britain and Italy.

Meanwhile at the Olympic Stadium Fanny Blankers-Koen, the Netherlands' one-woman track team, scored her second victory of the 14th Olympiad, smashing world and Olympic records in the process.

Canada's Bob McFarlane of London, Ont., qualified for the semifinals of the Olympic 400-metre run. McFarlane finished third in the second preliminary heat he ran today. In the first heat he was second, and just made the qualifying spot each time. Three qualifiers advanced from the second heats into tomorrow's semifinals.

Mrs. Blankers-Koen streaked over the 80-metre hurdles in 11.2 seconds to trim one-tenth of a second from the world mark she shared with Claujle Testoni of Italy.

FIRST "DOUBLE"

First "double" of these games, 30-year-old Mrs. Blankers-Koen, mother of two small children, also is entered in the high jump and relay, giving her a chance to win two more gold medals before the games end.

In another final, Kaj Rautavaara of Finland won the men's javelin-throwing title. Canada's Leo Roininen of Sudbury, Ont., failed to pass the qualifying round.

Capt. W. O. G. Grut, versatile Swedish artillery captain, became Olympic pentathlon champion with a record score of 16 points in the five events. The Swedish team took the combined championship in this event.

Four Danish swimmers smashed the Olympic 400-metre relay record of 4:36, held by the Netherlands, by winning their preliminary heat in 4:33.5—only to have the Netherlands take it back again in 4:31.3.

The Canadian team was sixth with a time of 55.04.5 and failed to qualify.

Bill Porter of the United States won the 110-metre high hurdles.

Montreal Gunman Suicides As Dramatic Chase Ends

MONTREAL (CP)—Cornered in a north-end building as several hundred citizens dodged a fusillade of bullets, a 25-year-old gunman fatally shot himself after a gunfight with police.

The man was unidentified. He took his own life a few minutes after police, following him after an attempted hold-up, surrounded him in a Berri Street building and sent out a call to headquarters for tear gas.

Police said the man entered a restaurant-grocery store owned by Damien Bertrand on Foucher Street and brandished a .38 calibre revolver. He told Bertrand to "hand over your money."

Instead Bertrand moved around the counter, kicked the gunman in the stomach. The gunman fired a shot which missed Bertrand. He then ran from the store with Bertrand's son, Francois, in pursuit.

Francois saw Capt. Gerard Brodeur, of the city police traffic department, on a motorcycle, and told him the bandit had attempted to rob his father. Brodeur called to him to stop.

Instead, the bandit again pulled his revolver, and told Brodeur "If you want to play, we'll play."

"I saw him facing me with his gun," Brodeur said. "I pulled mine and fired a shot."

The gunman shot back, and then ran into a lane.

Brodeur fired a second shot and the gunman dodged and climbed the stairs of a building to the third floor, and with his gun still in his hand, broke into the home of Mrs. Edouard Paquin.

"I was frightened," Mrs. Paquin said. "More for my 16-months-old baby than for myself. I told him to please leave us alone and slammed the door in his face."

Shut out in the shed again, the gunman tried to make his getaway, and Brodeur fired another shot. Three radio patrol cars under Sgt. Stanley Wiseman, and four detective office cars, packed with heavily-armed plainclothesmen headed by Det. Capt. Jos. Bedard were despatched to the scene.

Brodeur then began climbing the stairs towards the gunman, still dodging the bandit's bullets. The desperado tried to reach the roof, and Brodeur told him: "If you go any higher I'll shoot." The gunman's answer: "That's what I want."

The gunman took refuge behind a door, and fired two shots towards a surging group of policemen.

The shooting died down for a few moments, and then another shot pierced the silence. Policemen closed in from every side, with drawn guns, and found the gunman lying in a pool of blood, a bullet through his temple.

YACHTSMEN CONTINUE

Canada's yachtsmen continued the racing program opened Tuesday at Torquay, Devon. John Robertson and Dick Townsend of Hamilton, Ont., placed second in their swallow-class contest; Paul McLaughlin of Toronto was ninth in the Firefly class; and Bill Gooderham and Gerry Fairhead of Toronto 15th in the Star. All continued in competition.

Eric Jubb of Victoria and Peter Mingle of Montreal were eliminated from the 100-metre backstroke swimming, placing fifth in their respective heats.

The 17-year-old Victorian said afterwards he was competing against "really mature men." Both he and Mingle were "pretty young."

Cattle Smuggling Arrests Said Near

VANCOUVER (CP)—Investigations of an alert United States customs officer brought U.S. and Canadian federal agents to the verge of cracking an extensive international cattle-smuggling ring, Howard MacGowan, Washington State customs official, said this afternoon in Seattle.

At least three Canadians and two U.S. citizens will be arrested by U.S. officials "probably next week," it was revealed.

Less Beer For Dime

TORONTO (CP)—The liquor license authority board of Ontario officially announced today a reduction in the size of 10-cent glasses of beer from nine to eight ounces.

Prices of beer sold in taverns was increased from 21 to 23 cents a pint bottle. Manufacturers had sought the increase to compensate for rising costs.

SOS Spurs Search For Flying Boat

The air and surface search for Air France's missing six-motor flying boat, similar to the one shown above, is being spurred on today by a report that an SOS has been picked up from the plane down in the south Atlantic. The company reports the signal was picked up by one of the searching ships. Aboard the flying boat, the largest commercial plane in the world which went down Sunday on a flight between Martinique and French West Africa, are 52 persons.

2 German Zones Racing To Write First Constitution

BERLIN (AP)—Communists in eastern Germany raced to beat the west today in producing the country's first postwar constitution. Both groups have set September target dates.

Berliners, meantime, voiced hope that this week's western-power talks with Prime Minister Stalin in Moscow would result in an east-west compromise and early lifting of the Berlin deadlock.

It is the general belief in Berlin that no final agreements were reached at the Moscow meeting, but that enough of an exchange of views had been made with Stalin to indicate a compromise could be worked out.

It is expected the blockade will be lifted when the four powers agree on a date for a new big-four meeting, which most observers feel sure will be held.

BRITISH GOVERNOR

LONDON (Reuter)—Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor in Germany, went straight to the foreign office on his arrival here today from Berlin for talks with Foreign Secretary Bevin on the German crisis.

Sir Brian is expected to advise on the next step for Britain to take, in conjunction with the United States and France, after Monday's Berlin talks with Prime Minister Stalin, first move for a four-power settlement.

Chief of Irgun Appears In Public

JERUSALEM (AP)—Menachem Beigin, leader of the once-outlawed Irgun Zvai Leumi, Tuesday made his first public appearance when he addressed a crowd of 5,000 in Zion Square. He demanded swift inclusion of Jerusalem in the state of Israel, and urged militarization, not demilitarization of the city.

Fear War May Spread Beyond Disputed State

NEW DELHI (AP)—The fighting over Kashmir appears today to have turned into an open though undeclared war between the dominions of India and Pakistan.

A statement that Moslem Pakistan troops are fighting Hindu Indian forces in Kashmir was published Saturday in the Civil and Military Gazette of Lahore, Pakistan. Up to now, no one in authority in Pakistan has denied the statement.

If true, it means that what could be comfortably looked on in the past as a struggle by India to clear "raiders" from a state whose ruler has ceded it to India now must be viewed in a much more serious light.

A new feeling of tension is evident among the people here. Newspapers are beginning to voice fear hostilities in the northern province may spread beyond Kashmir's borders. One paper suggested the possibility of cutting Indian-Pakistan economic ties.

Some observers here suggested the presence of a United Nations commission in Kashmir had something to do with the so-called "admission" concerning Pakistan troops. These suggested also that it would pave the way for a cease-fire order.

No one seems to know what would happen after that. Both sides have reservations about holding a plebiscite to let the residents of Kashmir determine which dominion they want to join. Travelers from Kashmir say most residents prefer Moslem Pakistan.

Stage Set For Opening Of Liberal Convention

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA (CP) — They gave the National Liberal Convention its final touch of spit and polish today.

Late-comers arrived from the far reaches of the country, convention organization committees held a dozen and one "final" meetings to clean up odds and ends, workmen finished their labors in the convention hall and there was a last round of gossip and speculation in lobby-filled hotel rooms. With that, all was ready for the big opening tomorrow in the Coliseum.

There, at precisely 9.30 a.m., P.D.T., Prime Minister King will deliver an address and formally open a three-day party get-together at which party organization will be discussed, a new party platform whipped into shape and a new leader selected in a final round of balloting Saturday afternoon.

It will be the third national convention in the party's history.

4,000 TO ATTEND

More than 4,000 party supporters from across the country, including 1,299 voting delegates and 840 alternates, will attend the sessions.

The question of the leadership balloting looms largest in the convention gossip and speculation and promises to remain so until the issue is put to a vote Saturday.

Three main candidates already are in the running, with the possibility that the names of others may be put forward when nominations are formally closed at 5 p.m. Friday.

3 SEEK NOMINATION

In the leadership race now by their own announcement are External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, 66; Agriculture Minister Gardiner, 65, and Hon. C. G. (Chubby) Power, 60, wartime air minister.

There is a substantial list of probable starters. They include Finance Minister Abbott, Health Minister Martin, Transport Minister Chevrier, Defence Minister Claxton, Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia, and Premier Garson of Manitoba.

The first day of the convention will be devoted, after Mr. King's speech and an address by the mayor of Ottawa, to the election of convention officers, adoption of rules of procedure and speeches by representative Liberals.

Students To Enliven Liberal Convention

By GEORGE RONALD

OTTAWA (CP)—It's true all right the Liberal Party's convention will be tame by United States political standards: No movie stars, no dance bands, no door prizes or free beer.

But a group of 100 university students has big plans for enlivening the proceedings, which start Thursday at Lansdowne Park.

Delegates of the Canadian University Liberal Federation, they even sought permission to flood-light Laurier House, home of Prime Minister King, during the three-day convention. They were turned down on that one.

There'll be a torchlight parade tonight though. Colorful but serious, say C.U.L.F. officials—"none of that 'Joe College' stuff."

The parade will march to Laurier House, where Mr. King will make a brief address and light three torches symbolizing the convention theme—unity, security, freedom.

The torchlight parade will end the one-day first annual convention of the C.U.L.F., formed last September. At business sessions the students will draft resolutions to be presented to the party convention.

The resolutions represent the ideas of some 1,000 C.U.L.F. students—about 60 per cent of whom are veterans. Each of the 18 universities represented will have one vote in the election of Mr. King's successor.

PRISCILLA'S POP

Green Peas, Speeches

PUBLIC LIFE HAS a certain glamor to it but it has its punishing side as well—a side which few of our leading figures ever say much about.

However, James O'Neill, now on leave of absence for one year from his job as chief of police in Manchester, N.H., in order to fulfill his role as national commander of the American Legion, has been keeping track of some of the unusual aspects of his activities. He told them to Douglas Larsen, who being a reporter, knows something about this business of attending luncheons and banquets. After a few months of it reporters always look for a change of "beat."

MAYOR PERCY GEORGE

of Victoria, who recently had to rest from his strenuous effort to keep pace with social engagements as well as attend to the city's business, kept track of his appointments during his first year of office and said he had made around 400 speeches.

Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver, collapsed from the pressure of his office.

Candidates for the office of President of the United States are now in the midst of frenzied campaigns which will test their stamina to the limit and whoever wins will face a hectic session of four years in the White House.

AMERICAN LEGION COMMANDER O'Neill told Reporter Larsen that he has eaten more green peas in the last nine months than anyone else in the world has eaten in a whole lifetime.

That claim, Jim says, he can prove. He has saved the menus from all the banquets and luncheons he has attended. He suspects he holds the same record for baked ham and fried chicken.

In addition to his gastronomic achievements since being head of the Legion, he claims several other titles. He has made 1703 speeches in 610 cities in 44 states while traveling more than 100,000 miles. For the same period of time Jim's record even tops that of presidential aspirant Harold Stassen.

HIS LAST VISIT TO Boston O'Neill cites as a typical day in the life of a National Commander.

"Arrive at 6.30 in the morning. Speak to 300 persons at a formal breakfast. Meet the mayor at the city hall to give a short speech accepting the key to the city. Rush to a studio for a 15-minute radio interview. Speed out to the Governor's office for a personal meeting. Speak to 700 persons at lunch. Meet the city's top Legion officials. Break it up just as it is getting interesting for another radio speech. Rush to a reception which precedes a banquet. The banquet calls for a one-hour-and-a-half speech to 1200 persons, which is broadcast on a big network. Leave before the banquet is over to catch a plane to the next city. Try to sleep on the plane."

EVEN THAT ROUTINE could get monotonous. "So the Legion boys along the way do their best to vary it for him."

Like the time O'Neill visited a city in Texas. They met his car at the city limits. Before he had time to even start a speech they had him on a frisky palomino pony parading through the streets, followed by a brass band. Four hours later they helped him dismount and sent him on his way. Lying across the back seat of his car, he admitted it was the best of his trip.

James O'Neill: 1703 speeches in 610 cities in 44 states

first time he had been on a horse since his last visit to Texas—in 1917 with a cavalry outfit.

The Texas experience was second only to what happened to him one dark night as he and his aide were trying to reach the next engagement by car. Suddenly they found the road ahead blocked with several cars and men flashing lights. It was the sheriff with a warrant for his arrest. It turned out to be a gag but it was disturbing before he realized it.

Except for radio talks, his speeches are mostly extemporaneous. The topic is always universal military training, with housing, preparedness, the Legion and Communism interjected in various combinations "to give it sort of a new necktie," as O'Neill puts it.

HIGH SCHOOL AUDIENCES are the toughest to talk to and impress, he says.

"Those kids hang on to your every word just waiting for a mistake in your facts or grammar and ready to smirk at you when you do make a boner," O'Neill explains.

The easiest audiences are those made up of all Legionnaires.

O'Neill's term as Legion Commander expires next fall. He claims that he wouldn't have missed a minute of it. When he took a year's leave of absence as chief of police he knew he was getting into a back-breaking, speaking-traveling job which is tough on the liver and feet. So far he's survived beautifully, only dropping one pound off his stocky frame.

A few years after it's all over, O'Neill thinks he'll even be able to enjoy green peas again.

Air Force Officials Wondering What Air-Minded Boys Do Now

OTTAWA (CP)—Veteran observers at air force headquarters are wondering what happened to that typical air-minded Canadian youth of a few years back.

The tradition that most Canadian lads would swim the swiftest river or climb the highest mountain to get a chance to fly burst. There's a marked lack of interest in the R.C.A.F.'s short-term commission plan for aircrew training.

Canada's youths are ignoring in droves a comparatively palatial training program offering a six-year course worth scores of thousands of dollars to an individual.

When the R.C.A.F. announced the plan a year ago, officials braced themselves for an avalanche of applications. They have received barely enough suitable applicants to fill available openings—less than 200 annually. Remainder of the service's aircrew recruits enter on a permanent basis after university graduation.

Under the short-term-commission plan, single youths 18 to 24, with senior matriculation, may be given the six years of training and operations, either as pilots or radio-navigators. The idea is to maintain a nucleus of highly-trained specialists abreast of all the latest developments in aviation, and the training is tops.

The six-year period may be extended, or the trainee may be granted permanency in the service. Otherwise he is released to the auxiliary or reserve, with enough training for a permanent career.

The recruit doesn't start as an "AC2" as in wartime. He is called a "Flight Cadet" and draws a pilot officer's pay of $143 a month plus $30 flying pay while taking flying training and $55 a month more if "living out." He gets 30 days' leave a year.

Pilots receive from 600 to 1,900 hours' flying training of all descriptions at various training stations and later at squadrons across Canada.

Radio-navigators, the only other aircrew position in the R.C.A.F.'s peacetime schedule, receive radar, radio, gunnery and navigation training with the latest equipment. They fly about 50 hours during their course.

Italy Ready To Lead Move Yielding To United Europe

ROME (AP) — Italy is ready to take the lead in surrendering national sovereignty to bring about European Union, Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza said today.

The bearded, 74-year-old statesman urged union now as the only cure for the continent's postwar economic and political ills and the sole hope for peace.

To bring it about and to do away with "archaic frontiers and archaic customs duties," he declared in an interview, Italy is ready to "accept curtailment of its political sovereignty, even in the most unexpected aspects."

There was but one condition: "That others do the same."

A long-time advocate of unity, Count Sforza, had his hand strengthened last week when the Senate, in approving the European Recovery Program accord, urged their early development into effective union.

Only Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists demurred.

The question of national sovereignty has been and is one of the primary stumbling blocks in the way of a united Europe.

Liverpool Uneasy After Race Riots

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (AP) — With police patrolling in impressive strength, an uneasy quiet prevailed today at the south end of this port city, where race riots occurred during the last three days.

About 50 men, many of them West African negroes, are being held in jails for trial next week on a variety of charges. Police have a collection of iron bars, swords and knives used in several fights which took place in a square-mile area near the docks where many hundred negroes live.

Several women who took part in the brawling are free under bail. Investigators said white women who associate with negroes in clubs and on the streets are responsible for some of the fights.

tries ought to federate," the Foreign Minister said, "is to say that they must restrain in their economic life, use less competition and divergent efforts.

Yank Runner Clinches Sixth Olympic Classic

Mal Whitfield (136) of Ohio State sets new Olympic record of 1 minute 49.2 seconds as he wins 800-metre run at Empire Stadium, London, giving U.S. sixth gold medal of the games. Following in order across the finish line are Arthur Wint (122), Jamaica, second; Marcel Hansenne (151), France, third; Herb Barten (172), Michigan, fourth; I. Bengtsson (behind Hansenne) of Sweden, fifth; Bob Chambers (173), Southern California, sixth—(NEA Telephoto)

'NOT SO MUCH IN TRIUMPH'

THE SENSATIONAL ACHIEVEMENTS of Miss Barbara Ann Scott, the triumph of Canada's representative hockey team, and the memory of such accomplishments as Percy Williams' double spring victory in 1928, Dunc McNaughton's winning high jump in 1932, and similar highlights in other Olympic Games have created a background against which the showing of Canadian athletes currently competing at London lacks a certain lustre. Points are hard to obtain by the Dominion stars.

Those who had measured the chances of the Canadians on the basis of hope rather than reality are naturally somewhat disappointed. But the results are not of a nature to depreciate the efforts or the abilities of the fine group of young men and young women who are wearing the Maple Leaf emblem in competition against the finest amateur performers in the world. A split second decision in a race, a temporary lack of consistency in a diving or field event, the breaks in a game, are sufficient to mean the difference between victory and defeat.

What is of vital consideration, however, is that the Canadians at the Olympic Games should uphold the many traditions of sportsmanship and keenness which their predecessors have set. No evidence has been produced to suggest that they are not measuring up in those particulars. They are giving their best in the highest competition, displaying fighting hearts in each event. And while the fruits of victory are sweet, it is important to recognize the opportunity those less successful are offered to enjoy the benefits set forth by Baron Pierre de Coubertin as the abiding values of Olympic participation. In his famous toast the man who revived the Games said:

"Let us return, gentlemen, to the grand idea and spread it over all countries, thus laying the foundation of a healthy philosophy. The importance of life is not so much in triumph as in combat, the prime essential is not so much to have conquered as to have been honorably beaten. To encourage these precepts is to build up a type of humanity stronger and more valiant—above all more scrupulous and more generous."

That, we submit, is the important standard by which to judge a nation's attitude to the Games, whether or not the efforts of its competitors are crowned with material success.

GET DOWN TO BUSINESS

SURELY VICTORIANS HAVE HEARD enough about the difficulties attendant upon the construction of the Memorial Arena to indicate that some practical approach to the solution of this problem must be reached and reached quickly. We are not told why Col. B. R. Ker has retired from the commission under "existing circumstances." The taxpayers of Victoria evidently do not know why this laudable community enterprise cannot be completed without the revival of a controversy which seems to have little or no logic.

It would seem to us that Mayor George should call a special meeting of the City Council in an effort to find out what obstacles are blocking the completion of this community enterprise. As we have intimated in these columns on many occasions, the capital city of British Columbia legitimately can boast of a greater per capita wealth than any similar city in Canada; yet there seems to exist hereabouts a mental pugnacity determined to prevent the completion of a project in which practically all the people of the Greater Victoria area are especially interested.

It is not our intention to argue about the economics of the proposed Memorial Arena. But in view of the fact that such communities as Nanaimo, Nelson, Vernon and Kamloops have provided themselves with such facilities for the use and enjoyment of both the rising generation and the entertainment of the adult population—without the public airing of controversial dirty linen—it would seem to us, as it will appear to all intelligent taxpayers, that a Greater Victoria area with a population of more than 100,000 should be able to boast of a meeting place to do justice to its status.

SILLY SENSATIONALISM

OUR PEOPLE SHOULD NOT BE unduly disturbed by apparently irresponsible reports of Russian mines being discovered off the West Coast of Vancouver Island. Newspapers which depend, or try to depend, for their popularity and reader appeal on "manufactured" stories neither serve their own interests nor contribute to the peace of mind of their readers.

Radio commentators, both in the United States and in British Columbia, yesterday emphatically discounted the statement of a Vancouver morning paper. Rear Admiral E. Rollo Mainguy, one of the ablest naval authorities in Canada, doubted the story in toto. He said: "So far all mines destroyed by the navy have definitely been Japanese.... we have heard of no other types sighted." United States Navy and Coast Guard headquarters more or less pooch-pooched the Vancouver yarn that stray Russian mines were endangering west coast shipping—and said that such reports of Russian mines in

Pacific Northwest waters received during the past year have "all proved false."

One is constrained to suggest that there is sufficient difficulty and controversy rampant in the world today without attempts to stir up further trouble through the slaking of a sensational journalistic thirst. This is neither good newspaper business nor elementary common sense.

THE WAY IS OPEN

IN THE FAR CORNERS OF THE WORLD where men guide ships, Esquimalt is an honored name. Its history reaches back into the days of sail and its tradition is one to inspire pride. But Esquimalt, as a municipal entity, has its limitations. Taxable assessments there are severely circumscribed by the amount of Dominion government property within its borders which is exempt from municipal levies.

Under these circumstances the reported consideration given by the corporation to a proposal to make Esquimalt a city seems to be the height of folly. It would, by that designation, lose certain advantages it now enjoys in the way of provincial road upkeep. The municipality is in no position to sustain such a loss. As it is, the road system reflects a condition of penury which should not be aggravated.

What Esquimalt should do, if it wishes to improve its position, is undertake the formal procedures necessary for its inclusion within the city of Victoria. Such steps would not entail its loss of identity. Esquimalt would still be Esquimalt, just as other districts retain their individual distinction in the body corporate of the capital. If it aspires to civic stature, the way is open through amalgamation. No parochial pride should persuade it to follow a course which would further impoverish it.

MALLEABLE MR. HERRIDGE?

KNOWING HERBERT WILFRED HERRIDGE as we do, we wonder how he feels now that the British Columbia Co-operative Commonwealth Federation's provincial council has reinstated him in the party ranks, particularly in view of the reasons he gave for his expulsion in 1945. At that time, it will be recalled, this erudite and internationally-minded British Columbian made it obvious that he would not be dictated to by the oligarchical "economic planners" who required him to jump through their hoop when they chose to crack the whip. Mr. Herridge, who now represents Kootenay West in the House of Commons at Ottawa in the interests of what is known as the People's C.C.F. Party, is a man of humanitarian interests. Naturally he is an advocate of a sound policy for world peace. He was severely wounded in the Battle of the Somme in the First World War. He is the father of four children.

It will be for Mr. Herridge himself, if he feels in that frame of mind, to explain to his federal constituents of West Kootenay why, or if, he has experienced any balm to his conscience by the action of the provincial council of the C.C.F. in reinstating him as a member of Canada's Socialist Party. This interesting incident in itself, of course, gives us another view of the manner in which the Winch party of British Columbia operates and brings its members into line. The sinister implication of Mr. Herridge's expulsion needs no emphasis.

DESTINY AND MR. BRACKEN

HOW THE WHIRLIGIG OF TIME DOES things to parties—and, for that matter, to individuals! For example, at the gathering of the National Progressive Conservative Party in Ottawa in March, 1944, Mr. John Bracken pontificated thus:

"I would like you to understand that the party is not being built up just to win elections. It is being built up to derive the confidence of the Canadian people."

Well, Mr. Bracken, who, at heart is Liberal in outlook and is now in retirement, will be able to appreciate the value of the philosophy he expounded more than four years ago.

Canadians from coast to coast will hope that the former leader of the Progressive Conservative Party will soon regain sufficient health to enable him to enjoy the freedom of the country of his birth and all that such a term implies.

CRIMINALS—NOTHING MORE

DISINCLINATION OF THE PROVINCIAL Police to attribute to Doukhobor action the burning of a school at Hilliers and the alleged attempt to set fire to a church at Coombs suggests the course that should be followed in all cases of arson. They should be treated as evidence of criminal acts who ever was responsible. Whether Doukhobors or not, the culpable incendiaries should first be caught—and we appreciate the difficulties entailed—and then treated with the utmost severity.

Under no circumstances should culprits enjoy special leniency because of faith or other considerations. It should no longer be applicable to refer to any as "Sons of Freedom" in the cynical sense in which that term was used by a British Columbia newspaper some months ago to imply that some were special children enjoying freedom from the laws of the province.

Few Hewers Of Wood

Melbourne Herald

PSYCHOLOGICAL investigation by the Commonwealth Employment Service suggests many young people are aiming too high. And it promises to be a distressing problem.

More young people want to enter the professions and some skilled occupations than there are openings for them, and many others are seeking skilled work that they haven't the ability to do well. That presents the industrialist, the educationist, and the psychologist with an extraordinary problem.

SO MANY YOUTHS want to be skilled men that the acutest shortage of all is in unskilled and semi-skilled men. You get silk stocking makers advertising for people to work their machines at £12 a week, and the railways paying £10 a week (including overtime) for unskilled laborers. The margins for skill are diminishing.

And as mechanization increases, as more and more work formerly done by semi-skilled men is done by machines which require only lesser skilled operatives, the margin for skill will decrease further.

In a few years there will probably be a great many people who will be very unhappy and frustrated, because they're doing work they consider too humble.

WARNINGS HAVE already been issued advocating more thought for the trades and less for the white collar jobs. In addition university authorities fear that by the end of next year more people will be qualifying in almost all the professions than can be absorbed in them.

The whole problem is urgent if we are to avoid becoming a community packed with unhappy misfits. Perhaps some rapid extension of psychological services and of early vocational guidance in the schools would be the first step.

This could be coupled with greater publicity by the governmental agencies, which are now continuously assessing the likely demand for workers of various skills and aptitudes through industry.

THE POSSIBILITY of many people having to take work a little below their ability would itself, of course, offer the likelihood of just as much unhappiness as if they were trying to do work beyond their ability. The solution, according to the psychologists, is the satisfying use of leisure. Here is another paradox. While many people may have to do more humble work than that for which their education fits them, they may need still greater education to make satisfying use of their leisure, education which would supply the interests their humble work would not.

THE CHIEF guidance officer of the Commonwealth Employment Service (Mr. Want) says that tests he and his psychologists make show that about 10 per cent of children and their parents are at loggerheads about the work the children should take up.

Many parents have more ambition for their children than their children have ability. And that, he says, is where the psychologists do valuable work in assessing abilities and aptitudes with their tests, and reconciling these differences.

Even in the skilled trades, parents' preference for those which are regarded as having greater standing seem to be influencing youth.

A LOT OF BOYS at present want to be carpenters, plumbers and electricians, for instance, and there are comparatively few vacancies. But there are many vacancies and comparatively few starters for turning and fitting, boiler-making and molding. The preferences there may be influenced by the fact that you wear clean overalls in one group and dirty ones in the other.

The theory is to some extent contradicted, though, by the number of boys who want to be motor mechanics, including many with the aptitude to become fitters and turners, when they would be doing more highly-paid, more highly-skilled work, with the possibility of becoming instrument makers or perhaps executives.

MR. WANT SAYS many youths want work outside so that they can move about. There, too, many will have to take work which is not highly skilled, if they are to be happy, and to find leisure occupations that will satisfy their minds.

Mr. Want says his tests have shown that there is a proportion of youths with less ambition than ability, but that proportion is much smaller than that of over-ambitious.

He says ambition of country lads is much more closely related to ability than in the city. Many country people have an attitude which allows them to do simple jobs happily.

MR. WANT ARGUES that the comparatively few factories in the country do not stimulate the city ambition for skilled factory work. He says that among young country people there is a great untapped reservoir of skill.

Quoting

The first task is to reform the state enabling it to play its role in world affairs.—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, calling for state reforms in France.

Unless we free our country, while time remains, from the perverse doctrine of socialism, there can be no hope of recovery. This island cannot maintain its position as a great power under a socialist or collectivist system.—Winston Churchill.

The Weak Link

Worker's Stake In Free Enterprise

By J. LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE ARGUMENTS of leftist groups, whether of government or labor, that only under some form of socialism will the worker receive a just return for his effort, fall before the actual facts. A recent comparative study of the wages of non-farm labor in the United States since the beginning of the century established the striking fact that the industrial worker of 1945-46 actually receives 251 per cent more than he would have received for similar work, effort and experience at the beginning of the century. Under free enterprise then the worker has obtained a higher actual return than he would have received under any other economy or system.

It is often argued that unemployment, rising living costs and the effects of recurring depressions have wiped out most of the gains of labor. The figures will not support such arguments. In 50 years there have only been two occasions when there have been wage recessions, both in periods of severe depression and both temporary. Labor differences, rising living costs and minor depressions have been powerless to stay the steady forward march of labor's buying power.

There was a minor depression in 1907 and again in the early 20's. Let us consider these periods. Reducing all earnings to their actual buying value, the average earnings of the five years preceding this first depression were $644, for the five years that included the depression, $647. Again, the five years of the First Great War showed real earnings of $678. The immediate postwar period, 1918-22, showed a period of $682. Progress was slowed, but it was not reversed.

The major depression of the 30's was more drastic in effect. It took real wages from an average of $781 back to the level of 30 years before of $640. Even so it was only a temporary relapse. The five years 1935-39 saw the average back to $721. The next five years showed spectacular gains to a new high of $1,066. The year 1945-46 showed another spectacular climb to $1,261. It must never be forgotten that these figures are not of wages subject to every hazard and price fluctuation. They are the actual buying dollars based on current prices. The worker is 100 per cent better off than he was before the First Great War while the capitalist's dollar return is about one third of what it was then. What has communism or socialism to offer that is better than this record?

There Were Some Differences

Australian News

AUSTRALIANS GOT ALONG so well with the Americans during the war because they spoke the same language—or almost. Rear-Admiral J. A. Collins, First Naval Member, said at a Coral Sea commemoration luncheon in Melbourne.

But there were differences. On one occasion he ordered from an American supply depot hundreds of tons of fuel oil and two tons of coke for the ship's blacksmith shop.

The fuel oil was pumped into his ship as soon as it arrived, and later an American barge pulled alongside. The supply officer remarked: "We had a little difficulty about the last part of your order, sir, but it's alongside now."

The barge contained dozens of crates of Coca Cola. Rear-Admiral Collins said that so closely were the American and Australian navies associated in the Pacific war that when the names of some American destroyers were inadvertently prefixed with the letters "H.M.A.S." their crews explained that the letters meant "His Majesty's American Ships."

Few Australians recognised the magnitude of the Pacific battles, or the full extent of the American Navy's distinguished part in them. In aerial battles between carrier planes and Japanese land-based planes over Luzon the Japanese lost more planes than Germany did in the first two months of the Battle for Britain.

After the Luzon battle Japanese air power was little more than a sacrificial force of guided missiles.

In a single naval battle 20 Japanese warships were sunk in the Pacific, while submarines, many of them based in Australia, had helped to reduce the Japanese merchant fleet from a tonnage of seven million to one million by the end of the war.

Rear-Admiral Collins praised the Australian American Association for its efforts to preserve the war-time ties between the two countries.

How Harmless Are The Crackpots?

By BURTON S. HEATH From New York

MICHAEL J. QUILL, left-wing New York City councilman and international head of the Transport Workers' Union, says the indictment of 12 top Communists "serves only to make martyrs out of harmless crackpots."

That opinion is not going to make Mike popular with the comrades. It adds insult to the injury he did when he split with the Bolsheviks over Henry Wallace's presidential yen.

Mike Quill used to be one of the boys. Not a party member, mind you. He says he never held a card. But he concedes he did co-operate with the pinks. There are affidavits swearing that he sat in on sessions of the party's innermost circle from which, according to Moscow's rules, all but party members were rigorously excluded.

INDIGNANT

After extending such courtesies to Councilman Quill, the Kremlin's messenger boys must be indignant as they scurry around, replacing the ball money, and think how he described them right out in public as "crackpots." And, worse than that, they must be wondering what Uncle Joe thought when word got back to Moscow that the belligerent Irishman, who knows his handy-men so intimately, considers them "harmless."

We hold no brief for the 12 Reds. We don't care especially whether or not Uncle Joe appreciates them. Maybe their usefulness is ended anyway, and they must be replaced. But pure objectivity impels us to contradict Mike's estimate.

We'll accept "crackpot." It's apt and accurate. It is Quill's "harmless" with which we take issue.

HARMLESS

We are in no position to say that the 12 are harmful. Quill is in no position to say they are harmless. The crime of which they are accused is not harmless. It is felonious. They are accused of doing various things intended to result in the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence.

It should be borne in mind that these men are not indicted, and are not being persecuted, for their presumed belief in economic Marxism, or political Stalinism. The charge is not that they want to collectivize industry and trade in the United States, or even that they advocate replacing our republican institutions or our quite democratic political system with the rule of a dictatorship. Those things they have a perfect right to believe and advocate.

They are indicted, in fact, because the Communist Party in this country has taken the side of Russia in matters concerning national security.

CONTROL

These men control the party. Or maybe, these men are the instruments through which the Kremlin controls the party. It is not unnatural, unfair, undemocratic to let judge and jury decide whether these men personally are legally responsible for the treason, the sedition of which the party has been guilty while they at least pretended to guide its actions.

If they are, then they are far from harmless. Who is Mike Quill to decide at this stage that the Communist Party did not work against the United States, for benefit of Russia, against the orders and wishes of the top 12 Communist leaders?

Maybe Uncle Joe will let the boys go because they're no longer useful. But he knows better than Mike Quill whether they are harmless.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

WHILE the western world is speculating on what degree of Russian co-operation (if any) may grow out of the Stalin parley, the Belgrade conference on control of the Danube River provides a mirror which reflects a hard-boiled Communist determination to grant the democracies nothing which impedes Red expansion.

The mighty Danube is one of the world's strategic waterways. It is of the highest importance economically, politically, militarily and culturally, for it is the chief means of transport in that whole area of southeastern Europe. It rises in the Black Forest of southwest Germany and winds eastward for 1,750 miles, touching eight countries before emptying into the Black Sea.

Prior to the war the Danube had been under international control which gave rights to both eastern and western powers. As a matter of fact the Paris agreement of 1921 providing for such control is still on the books, but the Russians and their satellites have assumed complete domination of the waterway, charging that the western Allies broke the pact.

FIXED IN ADVANCE

Theoretically the Belgrade conference is to re-establish free navigation, but practically the matter was virtually fixed in advance by the Communists. The Russians have presented a new agreement under which the Danubian countries have exclusive control of the water thoroughfare. Moreover these states have a majority in the conference and can dictate what they wish.

Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky sounded the keynote of the conference right at the start. He told the representatives of the western powers to accept decisions of the Communist-dominated parley or get out.

GETS BRITISH ANSWER

Yesterday Vishinsky got an answer from the chief British delegate, Sir Charles Peake, who accused the Russian of trying to dominate the conference through control of the eastern states. Declared the irate Briton:

"I, for one, have no intention of being bullied or intimidated. The United Kingdom will not jump at the crack of Mr. Vishinsky's whip. Let me make that plain."

Naturally one of the chief reasons why the western Allies want to see an internationally-free river is to prevent the Danubian states from being completely swallowed up by Russia. Moreover, a resumption of trade between eastern and western Europe is important to success of the Marshall plan.

However, Vishinsky won't likely give up the "Blue Danube" on any such basis. The Danube, by the way, isn't blue. It's brownish, from silt. It's the allied chances which look blue.

PROGRESS

T. D. F. in the Ottawa Citizen
It is not exactly an age of progress in all directions, but in some respects we're doing all right. Man is learning to fly faster, kill quicker, work slower, than he ever did before!

POLITICAL MOVE

Washington Post
No reasonable person would expect Congress to write into law either the Democratic or the Republican campaign pledges in a special session preceding the election. The summons back to Washington was clearly conceived in politics and many irate Republicans are apparently eager to respond in a comparable partisan manner. But that is precisely the course which would redound to Mr. Truman's political credit. Congress would be adding to the number of skeletons in its closet while aiding the President in bringing those skeletons to public attention.

GOODWILL HOUSE

Windsor Star
The human interest story of the week is concerned with the Windsor carpenters—12 to 15 of them—who spent their day off building a home for their foreman. Touched by the plight of his family, which has been living in a basement for months, they pitched in and in eight hours the job was almost completed.

The carpenters donated their time, too, a piece of generosity which provides a pleasant incidental touch. We haven't any doubt that Mr. Gerald Provost, the lucky foreman, will be proud of his new home. And the carpenters, though no richer financially at the end of their buckshoe shift, undoubtedly will look back upon this effort as one of the most rewarding of their lives.

Will Have To Close Down Some Wards In Jubilee If New Grants Refused

There is a danger that the Royal Jubilee Hospital will have to close down one, two or maybe more wards if the new money grants being sought from the four municipalities are not provided.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent of the hospital, sounded this warning at Tuesday night's meeting of Saanich council when he was joined by Councillor J. L. Hobbs, who is also chairman of the hospital's board of directors, in requesting the municipal group for a special $5,000 grant.

Mr. Hobbs declared the hospital now had a $102,000 operating expense deficit.

"In other words we are virtually bankrupt," he said.

The two hospital officials stated the hospital is seeking $50,000 from the municipalities to meet the present financial emergency. Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, they said, had promised to match the $50,000.

Mr. Hobbs and Dr. Anderson said this would be the last time they would have to come to the council for contributions as time was not far off when the government would be taking over most of the financial burden.

NO IMMEDIATE DECISION

Council made no on-the-spot decision on the request for the new $5,000 grant, which is the amount the council has already donated this year.

Reeve E. C. Warren suggested the members peruse the six-month statement of receipts and disbursements before committing themselves to anything.

Mr. Hobbs said some of the hospital's biggest suppliers were "definitely getting 'sore' about unpaid bills.

"We are not buyers now, we are beggars," the hospital board chairman said.

Dr. Anderson said the deficit carryover from last year was $40,000 and had been increased owing to the over-all higher costs of things, including a $1,000 increase in nurses' salaries to bring them up on a par with other rates throughout B.C.

Councillor Leslie Passmore backed the stand of Esquimalt council, which at Monday night's meeting refused the grant.

"I don't see how we can ask the people to do more than they are now," he said.

Mr. Passmore considered hospitals a government responsibility. He said government statements proved the province had more money than ever before.

SAYS GOVERNMENT 'NOT GENEROUS'

"The council is like the hospital—just able to keep its head above water in regard to finances, and that just barely," Mr. Passmore said.

Reeve Warren declared he could not see "anything generous" in the government's offer to match the municipal grants.

"The estimate now is that $20,000,000 will be realized by the sales tax instead of the $12,000,000 earlier anticipated," Reeve Warren said. He believed the hospital debts should be relieved by the provincial treasury.

Reeve Warren emphasized the way Saanich ratepayers had to "pay and pay" out for hospitalization. They had to pay four times—for personal hospitals bills, under social assistance, municipal grants and finally in the government grants they help pay in taxes.

"We can't borrow a cent under our charter and must turn to the municipalities for help," Mr. Hobbs said. He appealed for one last helping hand from Saanich.

Suggest Local Improvement Plan To Get Better Roads In Saanich

With the defeat of the $495,000 money by-law to reconstruct and improve main roads throughout Saanich only a little over a week old, Council Tuesday night got the first new complaint from ratepayers on its inability to spend money to improve secondary roads.

"If that by-law had passed we could have done a lot more with our $12,000 annual ward appropriation for sideroad building and maintenance," said Reeve E. C. Warren. With the by-law's defeat, he continued, the council was in the same boat as before, powerless to do anything.

"It really boils down to this: You'll have the same conditions for another 20 years if you don't go in for services under local improvement," said Councillor Thomas Alexander, long-time champion of services under that arrangement.

Mr. Alexander said he only had $5,000 left out of his "pittance" for Ward I roads to last him the rest of the year.

This came up when a delegation headed by Mrs. E. Townsend, Derby Road, met the council asking for Cedar Avenue to be improved between Richmond Avenue and Shelbourne Street to Doncaster School.

The council's reply was that it did not have the money to do the job.

PASSMORE BACKS ALEXANDER

"I can't make the appropriation do for the 25 miles of road I have in my ward and I can understand Councillor Alexander's plight with 55 road miles," said Councillor Leslie Passmore. He also saw the only answer as local improvement schemes.

The delegation, which left the council chamber in a hostile mood, was told by council members they could apply for local improvements if 60 per cent of the property owners involved approved of the scheme in mind.

A war veteran delegation member said he had sunk $3,000 into his property in that area, was now broke and needed a road in the worst way. He was assured that while the council could not handle the expense of such an undertaking the engineer's department might be able to help if he supplied the materials.

Rev. F. Pike Plans Attractive Church On Saanich Site

An architect's drawing of the church Rev. F. Pike, 3821 Cedar Hill Cross Road, is planning for east side Quadra Street property between Union and Reynolds Road, was referred to the zoning board by Saanich Council meeting Tuesday night. The drawing indicates it will be a structure of attractive design.

Mr. Pike explained it is planned for the future when prices come down.

Before he can proceed the zoning board must approve construction of a church there. Mr. Pike said he planned to use an adjacent structure as a Sunday school when it is vacated by the tenants, and then use it as the rectory when the church is built. He will also have to get zoning board permission on these plans.

Oldest Cardinal Dies

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Enrico Cardinal Sibilina, 87, oldest member of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, died today at Anagni, his birthplace, it was announced here.

Want Cadboro Bay Shacks Torn Down

Saanich Council took steps at Tuesday night's meeting to see what could be done about having the unsightly shacks on Cadboro Bay shores, south of Sinclair Avenue, torn down.

Councillor J. L. Hobbs put them in the class of "eye-sores" and unfit for human habitation.

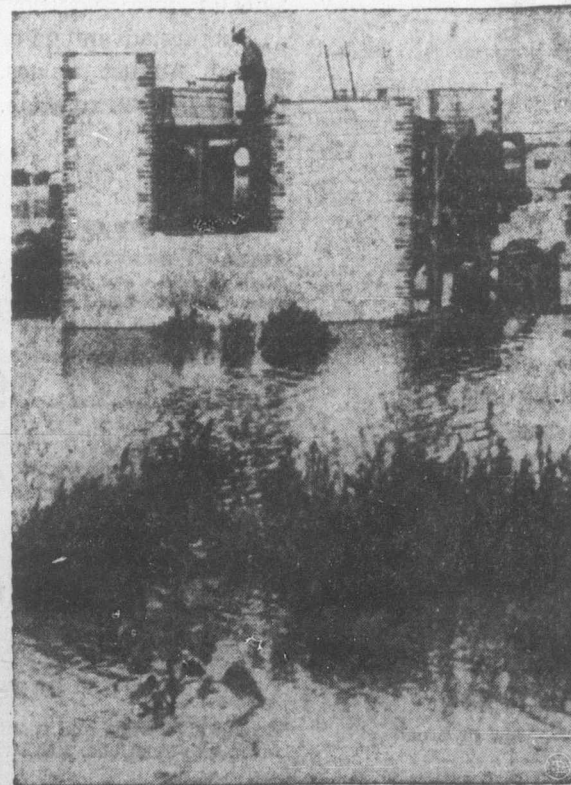

Reeve E. C. Warren suggested investigations before action is taken. He said there was the danger of the people living in them camping on the council's doorstep if evicted.

No Compensation 196 Killed Chicks

There will be no compensation awarded for the 196 chicks killed by dogs owned by W. McBay, 317 Simcoe Street, on Tattersall Drive property, Saanich Council decided at its meeting Tuesday night. This action came when it was reported Mr. McBay was operating there contrary to the zoning by-law. He will have to move his chicken-raising business elsewhere.

Cardinal Sibilina was Bishop of Sabina and Poggio Mirteto.

Mortar, Mortar, Everywhere

This workman isn't going to let a little thing like a raging flood keep him from laying bricks for this new house. A normally calm stream called Dry Walnut Creek, near Great Bend, Kan., became Wet Walnut Creek and flooded the surrounding area.

50% Saanich Taxes Goes For Education, Says Reeve Warren

Reeve E. C. Warren Tuesday night took exception to a statement attributed to ratepayers that Saanich residents "get nothing" when they approve by-laws.

Mrs. E. Townsend, Derby Road, told the council, said she heard comments by ratepayers to this effect following the defeat of the July 24 road money by-law while seeking signatures for a petition to have Cedar Avenue improved.

She reported the ratepayers said they would have turned out to vote if the by-law had been presented at the same time as other things. They did not have time to go out and vote on individual matters what with babies and homes to look after.

Mrs. Townsend said she also heard this question asked: "What is the use of voting 'yes' when we get nothing for it?"

Reeve Warren believed that the people did not realize how their money is spent.

"In the first place 50 per cent of taxes go toward education of their children.

"The other half goes to try and pay for every other service, including roads, police and fire protection, hospital grants and fees under social assistance and a great many other things," said Reeve Warren.

The people get as much as possible for what they pay in taxes," he said.

Public Hearing On Complaint Lodged By Wyndett Residents

Wyndett Avenue property owners have got some action on their plea to Saanich Council to try and stop persons building across the street to construct homes so that backyards face their house fronts.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the council, John B. Tribe, municipal clerk, was ordered to call a public hearing on the matter. It was reported the solicitor had approved the draft amendment to the zoning by-law.

Adelaide Street was constructed through the sub-division across the street parallel with Wyndett. That property is not wide enough to build houses back to back. Wyndett folk, seeing a drop in the valuation of their property if their front doors faced back doors, sought Saanich Council aid to prevent such a happening.

30 Years Working For Veterans

With a record of almost 30 years of working for the betterment of conditions for veterans of the two world wars, frontliner of the 1914-18 conflict, Alex Wilson, 2517 Margate Street, this month will enter the retirement ranks on attaining the age limit of 65 years.

"He has been a tower of strength to me and the department will greatly miss his services," S. H. Okell, assistant district administrator of the Department of Veterans' Affairs here, said today.

A Saanich Municipal Council member prior to the outbreak of the First World War, Mr. Wilson enlisted with the 67th Battalion, Western Scots, in Victoria in 1915.

He went overseas with this unit and served with it in England and France. He was transferred to the 102nd Battalion, North British Columbians, when the 67th broke up.

At the Lens front in August,

ALEX WILSON

1917, he was severely wounded. His left arm had to be amputated. Mr. Wilson returned to Canada in 1918 and the following year, still in Toronto, he joined the staff of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. He transferred to Victoria in September, 1919, and has been here ever since.

LOST SON IN ACTION

While he was with the government veterans' departments, the title changed from the D.S.C.R. to the Department of Pensions and National Health and during the present war to the D.V.A.

Between wars, Mr. Wilson was in charge of the Victoria office and has up to the present been the senior officer in charge of administration.

In 1920 he married Janet Johnson. They had two sons, James who graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts at U.B.C. last year, and Donald, a sub-lieutenant in the R.C.N., who was killed in action.

The local D.V.A. staff will hold a dinner in honor of Mr. Wilson, who has been a respected fellow-worker. He will be presented with an illuminated address and a gift as a token of esteem from the staff.

Mr. Wilson plans to spend his retiring years "just doing what I like to do—a little gardening, a little fishing and other things close to my heart," he said with a grin.

Following the address, the audience view the stars through three telescopes.

The lecture was held at the Provincial Normal School under the auspices of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society.

The DOCTOR Says:

BEING DESENSITIZED IS BEST TREATMENT FOR HAY FEVER

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Ten or twelve million people are believed to suffer from ragweed hay fever. Their "season" usually begins about Aug. 15 when ragweed pollen appears in the air in quantity.

The nose alternates between a stage of running mucus and being completely stuffed up. The eyes water, itch and sometimes are so swollen that they can be hardly opened in the morning. Sneezing comes in fits of 20 or 30 at a time, leaving the victim slightly relieved but exhausted. All together, the person who has severe ragweed hay fever is completely miserable for three or four weeks and has some trouble for one or two weeks at either end.

FROST STOPS IT

When the frost has destroyed the pollen there is no further trouble unless a little dust which contains the pollen is stirred up. This does not mean that hay fever has no complications. There is a tendency for those who have had hay fever for several years to develop asthma, which is a still more distressing condition than hay fever itself.

Probably the best treatment for ragweed fever is to try to be desensitized, that is, to have the sensitiveness to the pollen decreased by injections or "shots" of pollen extracts. These are best given either all the year round or for several months before the season starts.

Many hay fever victims are partially and temporarily relieved by air conditioning. Others plan their vacations during the hay fever season and go to places where the pollen is either absent or very slight. Now, too, some drugs which can be taken by mouth are useful for bringing temporary relief.

Question: Should cigarettes and coffee be limited or omitted entirely by a person with hardening of the arteries?

Answer: In certain kinds of hardening of the arteries, smoking should be eliminated entirely. In other cases some experts allow smoking in moderation. Coffee does not appear to be harmful in such cases if not drunk to excess.

Dr. L. Jean Bogert, pictured in the grounds at Olde England Guest House, where she is staying during her visit in the city.

Planning a stay in Victoria of from three to four months, during which time she will revise one of her books on dietetics is Dr. L. Jean Bogert, Berkeley, Calif.

Dr. Bogert has written several popular books and a quartette of widely-used text books, including "Diet and Personality," which tells how adapting food habits to one's type and environment can help towards greater vitality and more successful living.

A sixth edition, recently published, of a textbook, "Fundamentals of Chemistry," written by Dr. Bogert and published in 1924 is still rated as a best seller in that field, and another book, "Nutrition and Physical Fitness," is widely used by many universities in home economics courses.

Besides being rated as one of the leading authoresses in the technical field of bio-chemistry and nutrition, Dr. Bogert also holds the distinction of being the first woman appointed to the medical staff of Yale University, a position which began during the World War I, and which she held for six years.

It was at Yale University that the authoress received her doctor's degree in bio-chemistry. Later she spent 10 years in research at medical schools at Yale, University of Chicago and the Ford Hospital in Detroit.

The doctor has also traveled extensively abroad. Following the Armenian massacre at Smyrna in 1928, she traveled through Greece, Turkey, Syria and Egypt, on inspection with the Near East Relief for Armenian Children Group.

In 1938 she returned to Europe, spending summer months in England.

After over eight years of study in New York, where she wrote feature articles on "nutrition" for a popular women's magazine, Dr. Bogert traveled to California to make her home in Berkeley, where she now devotes all her time to writing.

Strong Women's Delegation At Liberal Convention

By RAY REX

OTTAWA (CP)—There's no doubt about it—the "weaker" sex will toss plenty of weight around at the National Liberal Convention which opens here tomorrow.

From as far west as Dawson Creek, B.C., and as far east as Charlottetown, more than 200 women are attending as delegates and alternates.

And this doesn't include several hundred wives who accompanied their husbands.

Noting that the number of women attending officially is nearly four times the number present at the convention 29 years ago, Mrs. S. C. Tweed of Ottawa, assistant director of the National Liberal Federation, said the increase was evidence of growing interest by Canadian women in the affairs of their country.

More than 50 women nominated from federal constituencies will attend as full delegates.

Officials of women's provincial Liberal associations attending the convention are Mrs. Gwen Morris, Vancouver; Mrs. Harry Perry, Regina; Mrs. J. W. Cadwell, Winnipeg; Mrs. Lorne Lee, Aurora, Ont.; Mme. Tancrede Jodoin, Montreal; Mrs. R. K. Kelley, Halifax; Mrs. D. J. Riley, Charlottetown.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., of Victoria, B.C., president of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Ottawa, will give one of two addresses of welcome at the opening session.

Several resolutions will be presented to the convention by the women's organizations and among them it is expected that social security and further recognition of women politically, will take a high place.

The women also are urging financial aid for students seeking advanced schooling.

"We don't want to see any boy or girl deprived of a university education just because he hasn't the money," said Mrs. Tweed. She added that she hoped to see the day when there would be a federal grant to the provinces from which an honor matriculant could borrow money to attend college. She noted that Saskatchewan had a fund, brought in during the Liberal regime in that province.

Pipe Cleaner Is Aid To Beauty

Pipe cleaners—those fuzzy white things spiraled on wire—are the "what's next" on the list which girls are taking over from the men. And with successful results.

Pipe cleaners make fine hair curlers, reports a girl who forgot to take her regulars on vacation and borrowed these substitutes from her dad. Now she rolls up her hair on pipe cleaners as a regular routine, and finds that they are particularly useful for curling hard-to-handle strays.

If you are in the habit of seeking orange stick and cotton to use for swabbing mascara smudges off your eyelids, try using a pipe cleaner instead. It's simpler to use, and as effective. So as not to bring the sharp end of a pipe cleaner in contact with your eyelid, bend the cleaner and use the looped centre for mascara swabbing. A looped pipe cleaner is also useful for freeing lashes of eyeshadow when it defies your efforts to keep it confined to the lids.

Eastern Home For Olive Smith As Bride Of Stanley J. Izon

A future home in Toronto, Ont., awaits Miss Olive Elizabeth Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith, 2279 Dalhousie Street, who became the bride of Stanley J. Izon, Toronto, in a ceremony early Monday evening at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay.

Standard baskets of white gladioli were placed at the altar, for the ceremony conducted by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

Later over 100 guests attended a reception at St. Mary's Hall, where the best man, Edgar Smith, Jr., gave the bridal toast to his sister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in white brocade satin, fashioned with full skirt caught to the slim bodice, and yoke of sheer net. Fragile stephanotis holding her full-length veil, were repeated in her shower bouquet of red roses. Complementing her ensemble was her single strand pearl necklace.

Mrs. Edgar Smith, Jr., as honor matron, wore a gown of peach blossom sheer, with matching headpiece. Her colonial bouquet was of carnations, sweet peas and roses. Carrying a similar bouquet, Miss Madeline Larachelle, bridesmaid, wore blue whisper taffeta, with matching headpiece.

Guests were seated by Andrew Larachelle and Richard Roe.

During the signing of the register, Arthur Stringer sang "Because."

When the three-tier wedding cake, decorated with a dainty silver bell, and orange blossoms, was cut by the bride, Mrs. D. McGregor and Mr. Everett Sisson assisted in serving pieces to the guests.

Before leaving for their eastern home, Mr. and Mrs. Izon are spending several days at Qualicum Beach. The bride chose for her traveling costume, a three-piece gabardine suit of grey, with contrasting wine accessories and corsage bouquet of carnations.

Age Is No Guide To Togs' Choice

If a woman looks young, she can dress youthfully.

The young-looking woman of 40 or over should stop believing that her age puts her in an advanced dress category. If she's smart, she will be guided in dressing by the old saw which says that a woman is no older than she looks.

Dressing youthfully helps to keep a woman feeling and looking young. We see all around us those women who look young enough to pass as ingenues and who are clever enough to dress the part. Their coiffures are youthfully styled. They wear ribbons or fresh flowers in their hair. They make the most of a tiny waistline by cinching in a belt. They bare their slim suitor's legs as gracefully as any youngster.

Our pep talk to the woman who is not so fortunate in retaining her youthful looks, however, takes another turn. She is reminded that a ribbon in her hair, a topknot of curls scragged up on her head, or a belt buckled around her middle is apt to accentuate the appearance of age if she is not young-looking enough to carry off such a dress trick.

Came Rebekah Lodge No. 45, Thursday at 8, I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street. Social follows meeting.

B.C. Woman Tops In Selling Field

TORONTO (CP)—When an attractive red head drops in on the fire chief, the chief usually is unprepared to meet the world's only fire-engine saleswoman.

This surprise technique has clinched many a deal for Mrs. Alma Diebolt, a recent visitor here from Vancouver. She is a past master at selling everything from logging equipment to milking machines.

Mrs. Diebolt, who runs a shopping service in Vancouver, recently became Canadian representative for a United States firm manufacturing fire engines. In the near future she expects to be selling heavy-duty trucks and maybe invading the Chinese market with her fire-fighting equipment.

Her venture into the selling world started in a monastery, she said. When she got tired of doing housework a few years ago she offered to do all the shopping for the Monastery of the Precious Blood where her sister-in-law was Mother Superior.

"After that I decided I could make my living by shopping for other people, so I rented an office, put a few ads in newspapers and started business with a borrowed typewriter and a prayer." Mrs. Diebolt admits it's not easy to compete with men in the selling and buying field. She said she wasn't prepared to find the high pressure methods they tried to get her out of what they thought was their exclusive field. But other men admired her ability.

Whether she's buying or selling, she uses what she calls her "surprise" technique, which means "just being a woman." Men usually are so amused by a gal talking about the price of a 70-foot boat keel that their sales-resistance goes down.

Annual Garden Party For Blind Held Wednesday

Arranged by the Women's Auxiliary, Victoria Branch, Canadian Institute for the Blind, the party was held in the grounds at the home of Senator G. H. Barnard and Mrs. Barnard, Rockland Avenue. Tea was served at small tables set under the huge silver maple on the upper lawn. At the head table, pictured above, left to right, were Mrs. Barnard, Mrs. T. M. Knox, convener of arrangements; Mrs. C. H. King, president of the auxiliary, who, with Mrs. Barnard, received guests; Mrs. E. L. McNiven, Mrs. Byron Johnson, Miss Innes Bodwell, Senator Barnard and Mrs. C. L. Wheldon. Miss Bodwell and Mrs. Wheldon were members of the arrangement committee with Mrs. Knox.

Auxiliary members who assisted at the garden tea were, left to right, Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, Mrs. L. C. Boyd, Miss Ruth Jones, Mrs. A. D. Bechtel, Mrs. R. H. B. Ker, Mrs. M. Newcomen, Mrs. K. L. Paton and Mrs. R. B. Horton. Mrs. Maude Ross and Mrs. T. Thorpe-Douglas were also on the committee. A musical program was arranged by Mrs. Horton and there was palm reading for enjoyment of the guests.

Dorothy Dix

SLOVENLY WIVES

Dear Miss Dix: I am 37, married 12 years and have two children. When I married my wife I was very much in love with her, so much that I did not pay too much attention to what a bad housekeeper she was and, anyway, I thought she would improve as she grew older. But she has grown worse and now doesn't even bother about her personal appearance.

I try very hard to keep up my end of the bargain, but it is very trying to come home to a dirty house, dirty kids and a sloppy wife and nothing to eat. She is still very pretty and has a nice figure and we could be happy together if she were not so lazy. She has perfect health, so she can't use even that for an alibi. When I try to talk to her, she only cries and says I do not love her any more.

All she wants to do is to read and to run to the neighbors' houses all day. What in the world is a man to do with a wife like that?

A VERY PUZZLED HUSBAND.

Answer: Your problem is easy to solve. It simply consists in your being a man instead of a mouse. As long as you let a lazy, trifling wife make a doormat out of you, she will do it. But you can turn her into an efficient helpmate by the same process that you would use if you were dealing with a business partner who wouldn't hold up his end of the job.

READ RIOT ACT

All you would have to do is to read the riot act to her and put some punch into it. Tell her that your patience is exhausted; that you are tired of coming home to a dirty house at night; that you will not stand her neglect of the children any longer, and that she either has to do her duty as a wife and mother, or else get out.

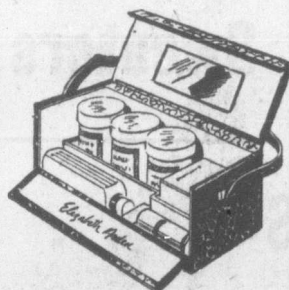

When she moans out that you no longer love her, ask her how she expects a man to stay in love with a frowzy, unattractive woman who is too lazy even to comb her hair or put on a clean dress. No doubt she will weep all over the place, because it is easier to turn on the tear ducts than it is the washing machine, but don't let her get away with it.

After sudsing white fabric gloves, add a little starch to rinse water to restore like-new crispness to the fabric. Slightly starched gloves will be more resistant to soil.

Chocolate-Cream Pie

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cocoa, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold milk, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups hot milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix sugar, flour, cocoa and salt and combine with cold milk until smooth. Gradually stir in hot milk, return to double boiler and cook 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat egg yolks, combine with a little of the hot mixture in the double boiler and cook 35 minutes longer. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Pour into a baked, nine-inch pie shell and top with meringue.

Beet Salad—Three cups grated raw beets, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon grated horseradish, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cooked salad dressing, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shredded coconut, lettuce. Mix beets, horseradish and salad dressing. Heap on lettuce leaves and top with coconut. Serve at once. Yield: six servings.

Handy—To clean asparagus, float stalks in pan of water for half hour. Sand and earth particles will come loose and sink to bottom of pan. Then a swirl or two in fresh water finishes the job.

A Garnish—As a piquant garnish for jellied consommé, mix three teaspoons chopped parsley with one teaspoon chopped chives.

For Variety—Add one 10-oz. tin condensed vegetable soup to stews, meat pies, goulash. A quick and easy way to provide a variety of vegetables for these dishes.

Good!—As gravy for your summer friend, chicken, empty one 10-oz. tin of condensed cream of mushroom soup into the chicken pan. Mix with drippings; heat and add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup top milk; then add chopped giblets.

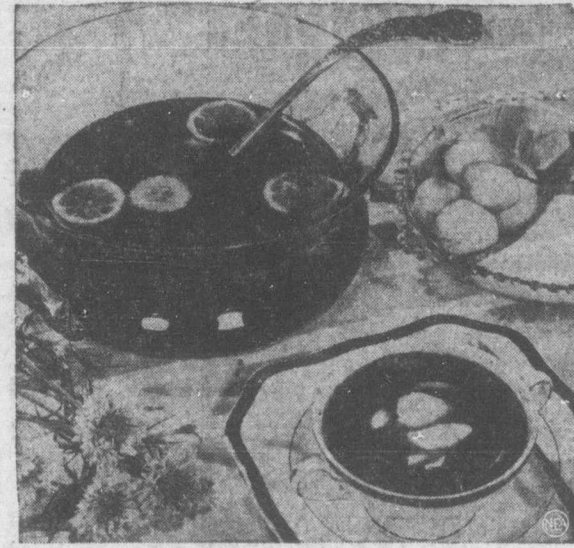

Hot Day Meal—Combine one 10-oz. tin condensed tomato soup with one 10-oz. tin condensed chicken gumbo soup and two tins water. Let simmer three minutes. Serve with cheese-spread sandwiches, cucumber salad, and fresh berries. Quick and good as a hot day meal.

Summer Day Salad—Thrifty homemakers always keep a few cans of luscious peaches on their pantry shelves. Both halves and slices make wonderful additions to fruit salads because they hold their shape and always retain their smooth texture and beautiful golden color. Combine them with halved fresh plums, green grapes and pear wedges for a colorful tasty salad.

Peach Melba—The long-standing peach melba idea gets a new twist for summer. Bruise a few mint leaves and combine them with fresh sweetened raspberries. Cook the berries a few minutes, cool and discard the mint. Place a chilled canned cling peach half in each dessert dish. Top first with a scoop of ice cream and then with a spoonful of minted berries. Garnish with a sprig of mint.

Nothing is more elegant or simpler to make for reception sandwiches than a chicken, celery and toasted almond filling. Toast the almonds in a slow oven and then cut them into slivers. Combine all the ingredients with mayonnaise.

Borsch Is Delicious, Colorful

Cold tomato borsch—a refreshing summer soup.

Here's a brand new recipe for tomato borsch which will air-condition you on the hottest day. Made with thrifty canned tomato cooking sauce and raw beets, it is easy to prepare. You serve it from a glass punch bowl or soupureen and pass, separately, boiled potatoes, also sliced cucumbers, lemon slices and extra sour cream so that each guest can garnish his own.

TOMATO BORSCH
Two 8-ounce cans all-tomato sauce, 1 quart consommé (use canned, freshly made, or make a consommé base with bouillon cubes or concentrated meat paste), 4 raw beets (grated to make about 1 lightly filled cup), 2 onions, grated or finely minced, 1 bay leaf, crushed, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoons garlic salt, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon plain salt, 1 small cucumber, $\frac{1}{2}$ lemon, sliced, $\frac{1}{2}$ pint sour cream.

Measure into large pot, all-tomato sauce, the consommé, grated beets, minced onions, bay leaf, lemon juice, garlic salt and plain salt. Bring very slowly to boiling. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Peel and grate cucumber; add to soup. Let stand 5 minutes. Strain if desired. Chill. Serve with additional thinly sliced cucumber and lemon slices. Top with sour cream. (Serves eight.)

Cook Economy Dishes Right

Both beef plate and smoked beef tongue belong in the economy group. They need careful and intelligent cooking. The result can be delicious low-cost protein that all the family will relish.

BEEF PLATE WITH ONIONS
Two pounds beef plate, salt, pepper, flour, 2 tablespoons fat, 12 small onions.
Sprinkle meat with flour, salt and pepper and brown in fat. Add $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 cups boiling water and simmer until tender—about 2½ hours. Place small whole, peeled onions around the meat and cook for 30 minutes or until tender. Serve with homemade chili sauce, heated. (Serves four.)

BEEF TONGUE WITH HORSE RADISH
One smoked beef tongue, 4 bay leaves, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 onion.
Wash tongue and soak in cold water overnight. Discard water. Cover with fresh water, bring to the boiling point and discard the water again if still salty. Cook in fresh water with seasonings until tender—about 3 hours. Let cool in cooking liquid. Remove from brine, pull off outer skin and cut off roots. Reheat in 2 cups of the liquid to serve hot. Add 3 tablespoons of horseradish to $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of mayonnaise for a piquant horseradish sauce. (Serves four with leftovers.)

CHEESE PUFF
Six slices bread, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups cheese, grated, 2 eggs, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, pepper, paprika, mustard, if desired.
Lay three slices of bread in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Sprinkle with half the cheese; cover with remaining bread. Beat eggs; add milk and seasonings; pour over the bread and cheese mixture and cover with remaining cheese. Set baking dish in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 40 minutes or until the custard is set and the bread is puffed up. (Serves four.)

Pink Lemonade

As certainly as temperatures rise, our thoughts turn to the coolest drink we know, tall frosty glasses of ice cold lemonade. This summer favorite is truly a lifesaver. It's so easy to prepare that children can make their own for between meal snacks. Prepare a cream cheese dip for them to eat with tasty crackers and let them follow this recipe for making their beverage.

Juice from 6 lemons, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, 6 cups cold water, ice, a few drops red food coloring.
Stir together lemon juice, sugar, water and coloring. Pour over ice in tall glasses. (Serves eight.)

Massage Reduces Too-Chubby Chin

The young girl who writes to say that she is developing a double chin is panicked by the thought that she is aging prematurely.

That, of course, is not the case. When a girl's chin doubles up, the blame can be put upon excess fat on the face.

The girl, or older woman for that matter, whose chin line develops folds should check up on her weight. If the scales justify such a query, she should ask her doctor for a diet to normalize her weight.

There are, of course, women whose plumpness seems to be entirely concentrated around the face. When that's the reason for an overly full chin, one of the best remedies at hand is regular massage. Vigorous patting or slapping under the chin with the back of the hand is an effective means for keeping flesh more firmly braced.

Good posture, of course, which requires that a head be held in line with the spine also helps to pull up chin slack.

Mocha Peach Shake

There's a bit of the South American way in this "Mocha Peach Shake" made with coffee, ice cream and luscious canned cling peaches. It's smooth and creamy with a delicate fruit flavor that's very refreshing.

Four canned cling peach halves, 2 teaspoons soluble powdered coffee, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup hot water, 1 cup vanilla ice cream, 1 cup table cream.

Mash peaches and press through sieve. Dissolve coffee with hot water. Combine peaches, dissolved coffee, ice cream and cream; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Serve in chilled glasses. Serves four.

Spy Investigation In U.S. Criticized By New York Times

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times Tuesday criticizes the way Communist activities are being investigated in Washington and says Canada set an example of proper procedure in breaking the Soviet spy case.

The Times says the same evidence that Elixabeth Bentley, a confessed former spy, gave the committee on un-American Activities in Washington had previously been given a grand jury in New York. The grand jury returned no indictments against the persons named by Miss Bentley in the Washington hearings.

"There undoubtedly were, and still are, agents of the Soviet government... seeking information on military matters... they should be sought out, brought to trial and punished, if they are found guilty," the Times says.

"There are legal ways of doing that, such as the Royal Commission used in Canada in investigating the leakage of information on atomic research. It conducted its hearings in private, weighed the evidence and only then made public the charges."

Air Cadets Greeted At Los Angeles

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Twelve young members of the Air Cadet League of Canada arrived at March Air Force base near here Tuesday as guests of the Air Force and Civil Air Patrol.

After touring the air force base today, the visitors were greeted at the Los Angeles City Hall by Mayor Fletcher Bowron, R. H. Hadow, British Consul General, and Victor Duclos, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Los Angeles.

Later this week they will visit movie studios and aircraft factories, see a jet fighter plane demonstration, fly to Catalina Island and attend a baseball game.

They will return next week to Calgary, Alberta, to meet cadets of the United States Civil Air Patrol on a visit to Canada in an exchange program designed to foster international good will.

PENSIONERS HOLD PICNIC—Enjoying a cup of tea at Beacon Hill Park Tuesday afternoon are a few of the 300 members of the Old Age Pensioners' Association at their ninth annual picnic. They were entertained by Stan James and his concert party, and were briefly addressed by Ald. F. G. Mulliner and Ald. Margaret Christie.

To Search For Minerals In Nfld. If Island Joins Confederation

OTTAWA (CP)—Newfoundland's entry into confederation is expected to intensify the search for minerals on the island and its dependency, Labrador.

The Canadian government, in outlining what it would do if Newfoundland joined Confederation, said it would send officers into the field to investigate known mineral deposits and to search for others.

Much of the officers' attention may be concentrated on Labrador, the 110,000 square miles of practically unpopulated territory which sits on the northeastern boundary of Quebec.

Canada's External Affairs Department notes that Labrador's resources "have not yet been thoroughly surveyed, but there are large deposits of high-grade hematite ore in the area bordering on northern Quebec, and huge water-power potentialities at Grand Falls and substantial stands of small timber." It says that "production of iron ore within the predictable future, however, is a distinct possibility."

The Labrador iron ore deposits are believed to be an extension of those discovered a few years ago in the Ungava district of northern Quebec.

Besides iron ore, the island produces small quantities of lead, zinc, fluorspar and limestone.

Gold, silver, copper, chomite, manganese, antimony and nickel are believed to exist in various parts of Newfoundland, but investigations so far indicate their quantities to be too small to warrant development.

Coal also has been found on the east coast of the island, but the deposits are believed to be only the outcroppings of the Nova Scotia coalfields.

Officials of the mines and resources department believe they can put mineral research officers into the field shortly after Union of Newfoundland with Canada is consummated. No date has yet been set, but July 1, 1949, is mentioned as the likely date for the island's entry into confederation.

Expect No Change In Clothing Costs

Prices of men's, women's and children's wearing apparel will likely continue at the present level for the remainder of the year, a check with city clothiers shows.

Most stores reported they already had purchased their fall and winter merchandise stocks at prices no higher than the previous year's.

As dealers do not intend to increase their mark-up price, there should be no added expense to the buying public.

"The retailers don't want high prices," one merchant said. "We are doing everything we possibly can to fight price rises so as to keep the cost of living from going any higher."

Family Makes City Hall Their Home

WINONA, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Phillip Wilson, 42, and her six children settled down to live in the first floor corridor of the Winona City Hall Tuesday after being evicted Monday from their rented five-room house.

Mrs. Wilson, who said her husband is working on a road construction job in Missouri, brought her brood, ranging from 11 months to 15 years before the Winona City Council Monday night demanding a place to live.

Mrs. Wilson said she was evicted by court order Monday when the sheriff approached her home. She stored her furniture and appeared when the City Council met in regular session.

When the council was unable to provide her with a place to live she took her children to the first floor corridor laid out blankets, sheets and pillow cases and put her children to bed.

Alberni Milk Supply Still Under Fire

PORT ALBERNI—Belief expressed by E. J. Kidston, sanitary inspector of the Nanaimo area, that an accidental occurrence might have been the cause for recent complaint about the local milk supply at Port Alberni, was not accepted by Mayor Loran K. Jordan.

Health officials, including Mr. Kidston were in Port Alberni to investigate complaints about the milk supply aired at a recent meeting of council. Mr. Kidston told council the investigators went all through the dairy in question and found that pasteurization was correctly carried out and that bacterial count was satisfactory.

Mayor Jordan said he had found evidence of foreign matter in bottles in the dairy's cooler. When he pointed it out to the manager, the latter said he would hold an inquiry immediately, according to Mayor Jordan.

Sunbathers Meeting In Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Many delegates to the 17th annual convention of the American Sunbathing Association came into town Tuesday incognito. They were clothed.

Starting next Wednesday at the 2,000-acre Sunshine Park near Mays Landing, some 500 association members will get down to the bare essentials of their meeting.

Dr. Isley Boone, 69-year-old superintendent of Sunshine Park, said the most important rule of the park is "clothes of any kind strictly forbidden, without special permission."

The convention calls for two business sessions daily. These will be strictly in the nude, Boone said. He did not say what business would be discussed.

Free time during the convention will be passed by participation in athletic events, including tennis, ping-pong, swimming, softball, foot races and horse-shoe pitching, Boone said. A number of events will be mixed affairs, but some will be restricted to men or women only. The public is barred.

New Teaching Methods Described To Kiwanians

Consideration of the individual more than his physical surroundings is necessary if children today are to become satisfied citizens.

That is the opinion of Dr. Franklin R. Zeran, Dean of the School of Education of Oregon State College.

Speaking before the Kiwanis Club Tuesday, the former member of U.S. Department of Education told of the modern methods of teaching and counseling where results can be measured through the medium of tests.

"What is needed is proper interpretation of these tests," he said, "in order that the abilities and interests of our children can be properly evaluated. A person is not an opportunist because he continually tries to use his natural ability."

In concluding, Dr. Zeran mentioned how services similar to those used in personnel management in business are now being used to ensure proper training of children.

Fertilizer Profits Down, Probe Finds

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Commission, starting its work with an investigation into the fertilizer business, found Tuesday the profits of one of the country's main suppliers have fallen although the value of its sales increased by $7,000,000 since 1939.

After a government official provided a general survey of the field, the commission called its first industrial witness. He was H. Creville Smith, executive vice-president of Canadian Industries Limited, which produces about a third of all chemical fertilizers used in Canada.

Mr. Smith provided figures which showed that in 1939 his company sold $4,287,000 worth of fertilizers and made $210,000 from it. In 1947, however, C.I.L.'s fertilizer branch made only $201,000 in net income, although its sales had risen to $11,082,000.

Pass Drama Exams

Three Victorians have been named as successful candidates in recent examinations conducted by the school and community drama branch of the department of education.

The three are Mrs. Eleanor Hewitt and Hugh Creelman, both of whom passed written and oral tests, and H. Binney, who was successful in the written examination.

Yachtsmen Getting Ready For Big Power Boat Race

With three days to go, Victoria yachtsmen are rigging their boats for the Capital City Yacht Club's annual predicted-log race from Canoe Cove to Friday Harbor.

Nearly 40 boats of all sizes are entered in the yachting event. Additional entries are expected by Saturday from Nanaimo and several United States power-boat clubs.

A special trophy will be awarded the grand over-all winner, as well as $100 in prizes for winners of the various classes.

G. L. James is chairman of the club's race committee. The course winds through the Gulf Islands to Friday Harbor. The cruisers participating in the race may be of any size, but must be capable of maintaining a speed of six knots or more.

The majority of boats will begin leaving Canoe Cove about 9. Each skipper before starting will submit to the race committee his log which will contain the hour and minute he predicts he will arrive at six control points along the course. He will also set down his estimated running time between control points.

An observer will be placed aboard each boat to see that all rules are observed. No watches will be allowed on board the boats.

Jap Communists Defy Occupation

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Communists Tuesday plastered Tokyo with posters shouting defiance of the government and the occupation.

The Communists, who have seized on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's recent stand against strikes by government workers, were careful not to mention the occupation directly.

"We hereby declare war against Fascism and third party interference which are running berserk," said the posters. The "third party" is the Communist way of referring to the occupation.

Authorities regarded all this tumult as a warm-up for a big Communist homecoming rally in downtown Tokyo tomorrow for Kyuichi Tokuda, party secretary. Tokuda escaped with slight injuries when a bomb thrower tried to assassinate him.

Jail Term Reduced For Vancouver Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. L. Northey, 68-year-old contractor, Tuesday was sentenced to one day in jail and a fine of $10,000 on charges of income tax evasion.

The sentence, imposed in County Court, was a sequel to an order for retrial issued by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Northey was originally sentenced in February, 1947, to 18 months in jail and a $10,000 fine or an additional month. His sons, Paul and Archibald, were sentenced to three years each, $2,000 fines or an additional six months each. The two sons will now serve six months each and pay $10,000 fines.

Baseball School Culmination Of Plan Started Last Season

The New York Yankees baseball school which will operate at Athletic Park from Aug. 23 to 25 is the result of long planning and much behind the scenes work. The idea of the school is not new. It was formulated last year when Yankee officials made periodic visits to the city in the course of their association with the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co.

Many times the plan was discussed by these Yankee officials, Reg Patterson of the A's and Pete Sallaway, sports editor of the Times. But it was impossible to bring the school to the city at that time, so the plan was shelved for the time being.

When Sylvester Johnson, former major league pitcher and now a scout for the Yankees, came to Victoria a few weeks ago the school was again the subject of discussion. Johnson said he saw no reason why the school could not be operated here with the assistance of the Times and the Athletics and promised his fullest support of the measure.

Little was said about the school awaiting the final decision of the Yankee officials on the west coast. The next step came when Eddie Lieshman, Pacific coast director of the New York Yankees' farm clubs on the Pacific coast, arrived in town 10 days ago.

REAL BENEFIT

In an effort to secure the school for Victoria and give the local youngsters the benefit of proper baseball instruction which has long been lacking in the city, Sallaway arranged a special conference with Lieshman and outlined plans for the school from the viewpoint of the Times which was willing to render all assistance necessary.

Lieshman agreed to the project and immediately contacted Joe Devine, the chief Yankee scout on the coast, for his approval. This was received and arrangements were soon completed for the school to be conducted here.

The school is under the direction of three officials, Johnson, Bob Fatjo, baseball coach at Bellermaire Prep in California and John Catrall, baseball coach at Santa Clara University. These coaches will be in complete charge.

They will divide the students into various classes and instruct the classes as a group in the fundamentals of the game. All aspects of baseball will be covered in this category, such as sliding, base running, batting, fielding, throwing, pitching and catching. Correct ways of playing the bases, tagging out runners, throwing from the outfield, backing up plays, footwork and balance will also be demonstrated.

Tillicums Cinch Spot In Lacrosse Playoffs

The Tillicums boxla squad last night clinched the fourth and final playoff spot in the local league standings with a 9 to 5 win over J.B.A.A. in a game that saw the court covered with rain in the last half.

Tillicums counted the first goal as Ken Druce fired one past Aitken in the Bay net. A quick reply by Jimmy Pickford, and another by Johnny Bamford, netted the oarsmen a 2 to 1 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Almost halfway through the second session, Bob Moffatt scored to increase the blueshirt margin to two goals. At this point the game was momentarily delayed on account of a passing thunder shower. Officials decided to continue the match on the rain-soaked surface, and the younger and lighter Tillicums took advantage of the unsure footing to notch three quick tallies by Gordie Bamford, Druce and Art Booth. This surge gave the clubmen a 4 to 3 half-time edge.

In the third canto the two teams split four markers, as Henderson and Lawrence bagged Tillicum goals, and Johnny Reid and Art Green netted for James Bay. Score at the three-quarter mark was 6 to 5 for J.A.C.

Yellowshirts salted the game away in the final frame by scoring a trio, while blanketing their rivals. Ken Druce rang up his third goal of the night, and Ed Bourke counted twice, as the pair ran off with the scoring honors.

Buzz Long, Tillicums net-minder, was the mainstay of their victory, turning aside 25 shots on goal. Aitken, of the Bays, saved 10.

Teams and scores follow: T.A.C. — Long, Henderson 1, Leonard, Comy, Lawrence 1, R. Long, Booth 1, G. Bamford 1, Bourke 2, Druce 3, Oakley.

J.B.A.A. — Aitken, C. Jones, O'Connell, Green 1, J. Bamford 1, Winter, V. Jones, Coates, Horne, Reid 1, Pickford 1, Costello, Moffatt 1.

Baseball School Registration

Victoria boys from 12 years and up who wish to attend the New York Yankees baseball school at Athletic Park Aug. 23 to 25 and are unable to register at the park are asked to fill in this form and mail it to "BASEBALL SCHOOL," care of the Times sports department.

Registrations will be accepted at Reg Patterson's office at Athletic Park daily, except Sunday, from 10 to noon, until Aug. 13.

Athletics Boot Two Games To Spokane

Drop Six Games Behind Bremerton As Indians' Double-Header Jinx Holds

Victoria Athletics should never play double-headers with Spokane Indians. Last night the A's played another twin bill with the Indians and for the third time this season dropped both games. The double defeat, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, dropped the Athletics six games off the pace of the league-leading Bremerton Bluejackets.

Len Kasparovitch and Del Owens suffered the defeats for the A's, Kasparovitch tossing a six-hitter in the seven-inning opener and Owens a four-hitter in the finale. But the A's just weren't hitting in the clutches although outhitting the Indians in both games.

Jack Teagan and Owens put on a brilliant pitchers' battle in the nine-inning game, Teagan having a shutout in his grasp until the ninth inning when Vic Buccola tripled and Sal Recca, in a pinch-hitting role, doubled for Victoria's lone tally.

Spokane scored both their runs in the second inning. Bud Sheely singled. Leo Thomas sacrificed and was safe when Babe Jensen booted the ball. Sanclemente was passed purposely to load the bases. Owens then walked Teagan to force in a run. Thomas stole home with the second tally. Owens closed the gate the rest of the way.

In the first game the A's took the lead in the third inning when Balassi scored on a wild throw to the plate. Spokane tied the score at 1 to 1 in the fifth and won the ball game in the sixth with a three-run outburst.

ERRORS AGAIN

Errors were also responsible for the Spokane rally in the sixth inning, the Indians putting together three hits and two

Jack Palmer was the only member of the club to find the Spokane pitching easy pickings. He smashed out two for three in the opener and two for four in the second.

Bremerton's front-running Bluejackets whipped Salem Senators, 8 to 5, for their ninth straight victory and took a five and one-half game lead over Tacoma Tigers, who dropped a 13 to 10 decision to the Yakima Packers.

The Jackets scored four runs in the first inning, two in the seventh and two in the eighth. Salem tallied all their runs in the ninth inning, driving John Conant from the hill.

SEVEN-RUN RALLY

Packers were forced to come from behind twice to defeat Tacoma. Trailing 4 to 0 in the third, Yakima scored seven runs to take the lead. Tacoma came back to move into a 10 to 8 margin in the fifth, but Yakima had another big inning in the sixth, good for five runs for their winning margin.

Bill Barisoff, Snag Moore and Lou Estes hit home runs for the Packers, Estes hitting a grand slam blow.

Vancouver Caplanos made five errors to hand Wenatchee Chiefs an 11 to 1 victory. The Caps outthrew the Chiefs, 11 to 8.

Eyelash Splits Four Clubs In American

The greatest of all pennant races in American League approached the two-thirds mark today in an unprecedented situation—a virtual four-way tie for first place among Cleveland, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. A mere .006 percentage points separated the four teams.

As a result of last night's games, Cleveland Indians regained the top rung by defeating Washington Senators 5 to 3 as Philadelphia Athletics dropped from first to fourth by losing to Chicago White Sox 2 to 1 in 10 innings. New York Yankees took over second place by trouncing Detroit Tigers 15 to 3 and Boston Red Sox advanced a notch into third by outslugging St. Louis Browns 15 to 8.

The National League race also was tightened when the leading Boston Braves were beaten 5 to 4 by Cincinnati while the rest of the first division—New York Giants, Brooklyn, and St. Louis Cardinals were rained out. In picking up half a game, the Giants advanced to within 4½ games of the Braves, and the Dodgers and Cardinals to within 5½.

Old Satchel Paige, making his first major league start, before 72,434 fans, largest night crowd in Cleveland history, gained the honor of pitching the tribe back into first place. The 44-year-old negro right-hander hurled seven innings, allowing the Senators seven hits before he was taken out for a pinch-hitter. It was Paige's second win of the season against one loss.

Red Lynn Leading Coast Loop Hurler

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japhet (Red) Lynn, Los Angeles moundsman, stood at the top of the Pacific Coast Baseball League pitching list today.

With 15' won and 5 lost, his percentage was .750, with 87 strikeouts.

Con Dempsey, San Francisco, and George Woods, Hollywood, were tied for the strikeout title at 99 each. Vincent DiBiasi, Portland, followed, with 96.

SEATTLE—Bobby Jones, 148, Oakland, outpointed Billy Tierney, 152, Seattle, 10.

Douglas Tire Rally For Softball Victory

Douglas Tire scored eight runs in the last two innings last night and walked off the field with a 10 to 4 decision over the Brentwood Aces and take a one-game lead in a best-three-out-of-five final playoff for the city senior A men's softball championship.

It didn't take long for the teams to start off where they left off Monday night as Hal Yardley was given the heave-ho in the first inning by Umpire Perkins, after he had taken exception to a decision at second base. The Tiremen opened the scoring in the first inning when Vic Dale and Toad Garnet came in on a single by Ray Byers. Brian Sluggert got one back for the Aces in their half on a long home run to right field.

Brentwood moved ahead 3 to 2 in the fifth on a home run by Phil Benn, and a double by Sluggert that sent in Frank Kishaw, who had reached first on a fielder's choice.

Sluggert, on the mound for the suburbanites, nurlled effective oal from the first inning on as the next 18 batters were retired in a row. He ran into trouble in the eighth. Chick Newman singled to left to start off the inning. Sluggert fielded a sacrifice bunt by Stan Tenning and threw the ball wild to first, Newman going to third and Tenning to second. Don Robinson doubled to send in the runners and he later scored on a hit by Dale to put the Tiremen in front 5 to 3.

FIVERUN RALLY

The roof fell in on the losers in the ninth as Douglas Tire added five more runs to take a commanding 10 to 3 lead. In the inning the Tiremen put together tripples by Byers and Gar Taylor, a double by Dale and a single by Tenning in between a walk to Ellis and an error.

Stan Tenning asked to be relieved in the bottom of the ninth and manager Jim Lackie sent in his ace hurler Ken Gunter. Ronnie Benn tripled off Gunter and scored his team's last run of the game on a wild pitch.

Tenning showed good control during his stay on the hill giving up one walk. He received credit for the win, and Sluggert, who also walked but one batter, was the loser. The Tiremen banged out 10 hits and the Aces nine. The teams meet again tonight at Central Park at 6:45.

'Y' Track Team To Compete At Caledonia Games

Bruce Humber's Y.M.C.A. track and field team will be represented at the Caledonia Games in Vancouver Saturday by a team of four select sprinters, two middle distance men and two women competitors.

Harry Mitchell will captain the team and run as anchor man for the defending champion Y.M.C.A. relay team. He will also enter the 100 and 220-yard sprints. Rafael Duke, winner of the 100 and 220 events at the Highland Games last Saturday, will run in the junior and senior 100-yard sprint.

Bob Hutchison is slated for duty in the junior 100 and senior 220 with Gordy Pynn, fourth member of the relay squad, entered in the hop, step and jump and broad jump events.

Phil Matson will compete in the junior half mile and senior mile with Ron Webster, 880-yard Highland Games champion, scheduled for the 440 and the half mile.

Pat Fleming and Dawn Josephs will carry the feminine colors. Miss Fleming is entered in the high jump and the women's 100 yards with Miss Josephs set for the junior broad and high jumps.

DURING the current season the softball teams have come up with enough screwy plays to fill a new edition of knotty problems. Monday night's opening game of the senior men's finals between Douglas Tire and Brentwood Aces proved no exception. Douglas Tire saw victory taken right out of their hands in a wild 10th inning because a couple of their players lost their heads on the bases. There would have been no doubt about the result if the two men in question had played heads up ball, as the runner on third base could easily have crossed the plate with the deciding run. As far as the runner on second base was concerned he should never have left the bag as where he finished up had no bearing on the final outcome.

BUT WHERE ALL the trouble started was that even the umpires never figured on the runners failing to play it smart. They were caught flat-footed and never made a call until questioned by the Brentwood manager and players. In the meantime the official back of the plate had ruled the runner safe and to the majority of the fans it appeared as if Douglas Tire had won. Then it remained for the umpire at third base to make the decision on the double play at second. Being quite within his rights he made no call on the play until requested. When asked he ruled it a double play and the ball game ended in a deadlock. Naturally, the delay in the official ruling resulted in wild arguments among spectators all over the field and several fights nearly resulted through the mix-up.

NORM BAKER will return to the box lacrosse wars. New Westminster A dancas have finally persuaded the blonde-headed star to sign for the balance of the season. Baker had previously refused to even become interested mainly due to his health. He had a tonsil operation over a month ago but is still under weight. Originally he planned to stay out of action until the professional basketball season opens in the fall.

HUGH FULLERTON writes that there is nothing wrong with the New York Yankees' outfield this season, outside of a trick knee here, a busted hand there, advancing age everywhere and a general inability to hit .300. But what is causing greater concern in some parts of the Yankee official family is the question of who will be in the outfield a couple of years from now. Joe DiMaggio, almost 34 and a big leaguer for 13 seasons, Tommy Henrich, Charley Keller and Johnny Lindell, all around 32, are not likely to survive many more seasons. And the Yankee farms report a serious shortage of good outfielders.

HARTFORD, Conn. — Willie Pep, 128½, Hartford outpointed Teddy "Redtop" Davis, 131, New York, 10 (non-title).

Portland, Ore. — Bill Petersen, 200, Seattle, stopped Roy Hawkins, 182, Portland, Ore., 9.

Bob Sandberg Joins Winnipeg Bombers

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bob Sandberg checked into Winnipeg from Minneapolis Tuesday and turned out for his first practice session with Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Arrival of Sandberg, star of last year's Bomber machine, gave Bombers a state of eight Americans. The seven other U.S. stars are vying for the four other positions open to imports.

As of the present Bill Daniels, massive negro centre from Baton Rouge, La., seems to have the inside track closely followed by Marion Livingstone and Harold Millon, also negros.

Green Ousts Livingstone From B.C. Net Tournament

Two hard-fought men's singles matches were the feature of play in the B.C. tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club yesterday before a heavy downpour of rain caused cancellation of some of the evening matches.

Bill Green of Vancouver pulled the upset of the meet to defeat, when he took a straight set, 7-5, 6-3, victory over fourth seeded Jim Livingstone of San Francisco.

Livingstone, still suffering from the effects of an attack of influenza, weakened in the second set after a hard-fought first set and Green was forcing the pace at the finish. Both players made some remarkable recovery shots during the match.

In another terrific battle, Don Lowenbren of San Francisco extended second seeded Jack Lowe of Seattle to three sets before losing, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. After a slow start Lowe repeatedly beat Lowenbren with cross court shots to take the second and third sets.

WOMEN'S PLAY

Arvilla McGuire, top-ranking woman star, eliminated Fatsy Zellmar, 13-year-old San Diego girl, 6-4, 6-1, in the women's singles. In the mixed doubles the Victoria city champions, Carl Brand and Mrs. Edwards, were defeated by Frank Sample and Miss Zellmar, 7-5, 11-9. Sample also won his singles match but was extended to the limit by Carl Busch, veteran's champion of California. Scores of the three set match were 6-2, 7-9, 6-4.

Top-seeded Hank Pfister advanced easily with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over R. Rickson.

Other results follow: C. Knox beat G. John, 6-1, 11-9; H. Fritter beat R. Rickson, 6-3, 6-2; J. Pielts beat J. Rickson, 6-2, 6-3; F. Fisher beat W. Wondra, 6-2, 6-1; H. Pindley beat T. Jueberg, 6-2, 6-1; Knox beat M. Dranga, 6-2, 6-0; Misses B. Kimbrell and Johnson, 6-2, 6-1; Miss Rose and Mrs. McKen beat Mrs. Hoogs and Mrs. Archer, 6-0, 6-0; C. Wits beat Mrs. Hoogs, 6-0, 6-3.

Dunbar and Hole beat Browning and Tooby, 6-2

Hansen's 101 Marks B.C. Cricket Triumph

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia and Ontario, co-holders of last year's title, meet today for the first time in the six-day four-province 1948 Canadian cricket championship tournament, after having scored victories in their first two starts.

The highly-favored British Columbia aggregation won its second straight match by handing Manitoba a top-heavy beating, while Ontario won its second match by defeating Alberta.

Led by the brilliant batting of Stan Hansen with 101 not out, B.C. piled up a total of 295 runs in the six-day four-province tournament, after having scored victories in their first two starts.

In making his first century in Canada—he made one in England while serving with the R.C.A.F. during the war—Hansen's terrific hitting included one six and 14 fours.

Completely ragged after their long stay in the field, Manitoba's batsmen failed to cope with the bowling of Noel Buckley (six for seven) and Frank Harrison (four for six) and went out in short order.

TAIL COLLAPSES

After the top-half had contributed some fine scores, Alberta's tail-end batsmen collapsed and the team was all out for 110 against Ontario, who finally rang up 111 for only three wickets.

Jack Edwards was top scorer for Alberta with 43, supported by Pete Snell's 20 and R. P. Jones' 17. Eric Boyden (four for 39) and Les Stroud (three for 20) were the pick of Ontario bowlers.

The easterners, although experiencing little difficulty with Alberta's bowling, were slow in hitting off the runs, Percy Barnes, opening batsman, ran up 53 not out, when the winning hit was

Guldahl Breaks Record With 64 For $1,000 Award

CHICAGO (AP)—A high-powered field in the $50,000 All-American golf tournament today tried to catch up with an explosive comeback swinger, stooped-shouldered Ralph Guldahl, 1937-38 United States Open champion.

Guldahl ripped Tam O'Shanter's rolling greens apart yesterday with a 64, a record-breaking eight under par, Ralph, who tumbled from the headlines after winning the 1939 Masters' Open, held a two-stroke lead over runner-up Dick Metz in the rich 72-hole medal play test.

For breaking the course record Guldahl received a special award of $1,000.

Metz with 33-33-66 was a stroke ahead of a brace of 67 shooters, Chandler Harper and Elmer Reed.

In all, 34 professional contenders and four amateurs, headed by Mike Stolarik of Waukegan, Ill., with an impressive 68, shattered par 72 in the get-away round of the three-ringed Tam fairways circus.

'Y' Swim Club Takes 3 Titles At Kelowna

Hollywood Beats Seattle Twice For Fifth Spot

A pair of sparkling pitching jobs and a pair of just home runs provided Coast League fireworks last night.

The fancy twirling was turned in by southpaw Cliff Melton, whose four-hit shutout gave pace-setting San Francisco a 4 to 0 win over San Diego, and by Sacramento right-handed Marv Grisom, who checked Los Angeles with five blows for a 3 to 1 victory.

The homers came off the booming bat of Hollywood's big Gus Zernial and were the big factor in the Stars' double win over Seattle, 7 to 3 and 6 to 5. As a result the Stars vaulted over the Rainiers into fifth place.

Second place Oakland and Portland split a twin bill, dropping the Oaks to two games behind the leading Seals. Oakland took the opener, 2 to 1, but the Beavers bounced back with a 7 to 4 decision.

Melton's powerful whip—he fanned nine batters—made Jimmy Reese's debut as San Diego manager a sad affair. Ripper Collins got the gate yesterday following the Padres' recent skid of 14 losses in their last 17 games. It was the 14th win for the big lefty, who was helped by homers by Jack Tobin and Gene Woodling.

Barr, Gibson Remain In Bowling Singles

Despite threatening weather during the day, and a few scattered showers in the evening, play continued Tuesday in the holiday lawn bowling tournament. Both men's and women's rinks were featured in the day-time with singles competition taking the spotlight for the evening.

The medley relay team of Nita Anderson, Ina Salmon and Jean Mills won the 300-yard medley race and the junior boys' relay team of Inglis, Powell and Ray Jubb annexed the B.C. championship 150-yard medley event.

Ina Salmon placed second to Nora Kirkpatrick in the senior women's 100-yard backstroke. Jack Morgan was third in the men's 200-yard backstroke open event, won by Ted Willson of Vancouver. Nita Anderson was third in the women's 100-yard freestyle. The Victoria junior girls' relay team of Pat Wright, Peggy Woods and Norma Stewart placed second in the 150-yard medley relay.

Men's singles being played at Burnside, Lake Hill and Beacon Hill, advanced as far as the quarterfinals last night. Scott Keenlyside and Peter Sharpe, both of Terminal, were the winners at Burnside, while another pair of Vancouverites, T. Moorcroft, Stanley Park, and E. P. Masterman of West Vancouver, won at Lake Hill. Only local players to remain in the singles are Sam Barr, Canadian Pacific, and W. Gibson, Lake Hill, who won at Beacon Hill along with R. L. Elliott of North Vancouver, and A. Gavin from Grandview. These winners will meet in the quarterfinals this evening at Beacon Hill.

Women's events
Victoria West and Canadian Pacific greens were the scene of the women's rinks during the day, and singles at night. The Kerrisdale rink, skipped by Mrs. Whyte, including Mrs. Young, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Stephens, won out at the Crystal Garden green, against Mrs. Stables' Grandview rink. At Victoria West the Tacoma entry of Mrs. Geer went down to the Victoria West team of Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. C. Fea, Mrs. Tiquebran and Mrs. J. T. Keating.

In the women's singles, a keen contest was witnessed between Mrs. Pringle, Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. Berry of Hastings Community, as the pair battled through 23 ends before Mrs. Pringle took the game by a single point. Three other mainlanders will also enter the semifinals, to be played at the Crystal Garden green on Thursday evening. They are, Mrs. Foreman, Grandview; Mrs. Greenwood, White Rock, and Mrs. Smith of Dunbar.

Today's schedule has women's doubles running all day and evening at the Canadian Pacific green. Men's doubles are occupying the remaining greens in the daytime, and Beacon Hill will be the centre of interest this evening, where singles quarterfinals and rinks semifinals will take place.

W. J. Watts Heads Hockey Hall Of Fame
KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—William J. Watts, prominent Kingston sportsman, has been elected president of the International Hockey Hall of Fame.

A vote by mail named him successor to the late Mayor J. Stuart Crawford. Magistrate J. B. Garvin becomes first vice-president, succeeding Watts.

With 170 entries received to date and more expected, officials look for a record entry in the 26th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association championships at Victoria Golf Club Monday to Friday of next week.

Ralph Whaley, a four-time winner of the event and present champion is expected to be on hand to defend his title. Another strong contender entered is the present Washington State seniors' champion and the 1947 winner of the Empress tourney here, Ed Eisenhower of Tacoma.

The special international match between American and Canadian members will take place on Sunday preceding the opening of the tournament. Match will start at noon.

A dinner celebrating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the association will take place at the Union Club Aug. 12 at 7.45.

The 18-hole qualifying round will take place Monday with the 16 low gross of all classes to qualify for the grand championship flight.

CLASS EVENTS
Others will be divided into various class championships, ranging from the A.A. (75 and over) to the D class (55 to 59) depending on qualifying scores. All competitors failing to qualify in the championship flights will be formed into even-numbered flights of 16.

Tuesday, flight competition will begin continuing through until Friday when finals will take place. Putting competitions will be held every day with the long-driving contest set for Thursday. This event will be best of three balls and prizes will be awarded in each of the championship classes.

All matches will be 18 holes except the 36-hole medal competition, nine holes scheduled each day.

No handicap exceeding 24 will be allowed. All matches in flights will be played on handicap at three-quarters of difference. Teams will be 20 a side in the international match and will play in best-ball, four-ball matches.

Entries which close today must be sent to A. V. Macan, secretary-treasurer, 202 Central Building.

Tommy Ryan Dies
VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Tommy Ryan, who retired undefeated in 1907 as welterweight and middleweight boxing champion of the world, died at his home Tuesday. He was born Joseph Youngs 78 years ago at Redwood, N.Y.

'We All Need Profits For Progress'
Profits are the wages of Industry. Sometimes Industry earns good wages, sometimes poor wages. Sometimes no wages at all... for there is no "minimum wage" laws to protect Industry from having losses.
The average wage of industry over a span of 10 years is a profit of less than 6 per cent... although the average person polled in a recent survey in the United States thought most industries earned profits of 25 per cent or more on their sales.
Out of its wages or profits Industry must find the money to buy new and better tools of production and reserves to carry it along through periods of readjustment and loss.
Profits, the wages and incentive of Industry, are as necessary and respectable as wages paid in reward for any individual's work. Everyone depends on profits for progress.

Contractors Want City To Control Private Builders

In a move to protect contractors, the Victoria Builders' Exchange Ltd. today asked the city to consider introducing legislation which would require private individuals taking out building permits to also take out a contractor's trade license.

In a letter to Mayor Percy George and members of the City Council, Roy T. Loughheed, secretary of the exchange, said the fee derived from the license work done by legitimate construction and supervision by the building department of privately constructed building, which often require more inspection than work done by legitimate contractors.

"It has also been pointed out that many owners are building for speculation and should certainly pay a trade license if they wish to carry on building operations."

"Your consideration of this matter is earnestly solicited as the exchange feels that this would be a logical procedure for the protection of all types of local construction."

Fort St. John Man Second Polio Victim

Poliomyelitis has taken a second life in British Columbia. Death of William Charles, 32, of Fort St. John was reported today by the Provincial Health Department.

First death of the year was reported Tuesday. Victim was a nine-year-old Alberta boy visiting Aldergrove with his mother. He died in a Vancouver hospital.

Another case has been reported from Cranbrook to bring the total for the year to 47.

At this time last year three persons had died and there were 83 cases under treatment.

Mayor Still Hopes For Commission On Dominion Highway

Mayor Percy George today expressed hope that a Federal Highway Commission would be appointed to study the possibility of a Trans-Canada Highway, despite Ottawa reports that such a commission was still not being considered by the government.

The Ottawa report that no immediate establishment of a commission could be expected despite considerable agitation for one.

While disappointed over the report, Mayor George said he did not think the statement put the possibility of a commission out of the picture entirely.

"While I agree that early appointment of the commission is desirable, it does seem to me the matter is still open to consideration by the government," he said. He anticipated that the city would continue its request for establishment of the commission in view of the "excellent reasons which the government should exercise itself in considering this matter."

Among the good reasons, the mayor mentioned the need for unity of thought and strengthening of the country. He failed to see how a country could be expected to expand and grow without at least one trans-continental highway.

He pointed out that many Canadians had to use U.S. highways to cross the country which resulted in a good deal of money being taken out of the country. In addition to the fact that travelers were deprived of becoming really acquainted with their own Canadian cities and rural areas.

Some Vacancies For 'Y' August Tours

Robert Morrison reported today there are still several vacancies for three trips this month by the Y.M.C.A. educational tour club.

There are two openings for this week-end's cruise to the Gulf Islands. The group will leave Friday night from the Causeway float.

There are the same number of vacancies for the Campbell River chartered bus trip on Aug. 14 and 15 to view the power project, and four or five for the eight-day cruise to Princess Louisa Inlet later in the month on the Songhees.

Building Figures Up In Oak Bay

During July this year, 23 building permits were issued at a value of $83,158, according to figures released by the municipal engineer's department of Oak Bay. For the same month last year, only 11 permits were issued at a value of $20,875.

A total of 183 permits valued at $739,255 have been issued in Oak Bay since the beginning of the year. Of that number there was 104 permits for construction of houses costing $695,650.

In the corresponding period last year, there were 111 permits issued at a cost of $420,014, of which 54 were for dwellings costing $363,530.

Navy Ships Plan 'Night Encounter' With British Ship

All active ships within the Pacific Coast Northwest Command will take part in a night encounter Friday with H.M.S. Sheffield, British flagship of the American and West Indies Station, which will visit Victoria for the Navy Week celebrations. Naval headquarters announced today.

Five Canadian warships will take part in the naval exercises which will begin Friday night, ending early Saturday morning. The ships are the cruiser Ontario, tribal destroyers Cayuga, Athabaskan and Crescent and the frigate Antigonish.

Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.F.C. and Bar, will serve as commanding officer of the Canadian fleet.

The British warship is expected to dock at Esquimalt early Saturday morning following the naval exercises which are being held somewhere in the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Aboard the warship is Vice-Admiral Sir William Tennant, commander of the American and West Indies Station.

Sir William sailed July 17 from Acapulco, Mexico, for a visit to Portland, Ore. The Sheffield will leave Victoria Aug. 17, calling at Vancouver, Seattle and other cities.

To Demonstrate Diving Equipment

A demonstration of shallow and deep diving equipment and the tools for cutting metal under water will be held at the swimming pool of H.M.C.S. Naden during Navy Week, Aug. 7 and 14. The crew of the diving tender are all men from Victoria—P.O. W. Woods, P.O.R. Wigmore, P.O. L. Farr and Engine Room Artificer H. Jewsbury. They all have many years of diving experience to their credit.

The crew are trained in the use of shallow water diving equipment and deepsea apparatus. The shallow water equipment includes Salvus Gear and Davis escape apparatus, which is primarily used for escaping from disabled submarines.

The demonstration will also include a display of deepsea diving suit, which are used with an air pump. In this, divers can go down to depths of 200 feet. To counteract the buoyancy caused by the air in the suit, the diver has to be weighted. The boots weigh 20 pounds each; 58 pounds of lead is worn around the waist in a belt, the helmet weighs 45 pounds and the suit itself weighs 15 pounds.

Cruiser Ontario Visiting Seattle

H.M.C.S. Ontario, on a summer training cruise, arrived in Seattle Tuesday for a three-day visit to the U.S. port. The ship fired a salute off Fort Worden, en route to Seattle.

Capt. J. C. Hibbard, commanding officer of the Ontario, today presented the Canadian Military Medal to Alvin J. Kellerman of Seattle. The ship was open to the public this afternoon.

Prior to her visit to Seattle, the Ontario was in Victoria for three days following her return from San Francisco. She will leave Seattle Friday to take part in a night encounter with the British warship, Sheffield.

6 Months For Theft

Deputy Magistrate Patrick J. Sinnott in city police court today imposed a six-month Oakalla prison sentence against Glenville John Rowlands, 34, who Monday pleaded guilty to theft of $100 in cash from the home of Charles B. Bowman, 835 Pemberton Road, on the night of July 17.

The Canadian immigration department has been contacted about deporting the man to England. Accused has been in Canada two years and had spent one year of that time in prison for robbery. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, believes Rowlands may be able to settle down if returned to his native soil.

The deputy magistrate noted that while accused had only been in the country a short while he had been a trouble and expense to the community during that time.

Gilbert Hatcher Named Head Of Statistics Bureau

Gilbert T. Hatcher who has been acting as officer in charge of the Provincial Bureau of Economics and Statistics, today was appointed director with James E. Brown as his assistant.

Appointment was made by Hon. Leslie Eyres, Minister of Trade and Industry.

Mr. Hatcher has been on the staff of the bureau since 1941. He first was a research assistant and later was appointed research supervisor.

Thirty-four years of age, Mr. Hatcher attended public schools at Vancouver and graduated from U.B.C. in 1938 with first-class honors. He specialized in economics, statistics and agricultural economics.

The following year he was an instructor in statistics at the university, and in 1940 obtained his M.S.A., also with first-class honors.

Prior to joining the bureau, Mr. Hatcher worked a year in the Statistical and Marketing Division, federal Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Brown, assistant director, has been on the staff of the bureau since 1945.

Mr. Hatcher succeeds Neil Perry as director of the bureau. Mr. Perry resigned a year ago to take a post at Ottawa.

To Display Work

Parents and friends of children of the Tolmie Playground group will have a chance to see the work the youngsters have done during the summer vacation Thursday when a carnival will be held from 7 to 9 in the evening.

Following the demonstration, some of the goods on display will be offered for sale. Friday afternoon the Rainbow Park children will set up a stall and sell some of the articles they have made recently. Also on the program will be bingo and afternoon tea.

Beacon Hill Park's new band shell has met with such success that Medicine Hat, Alta., wants one just like it. In a telegram to City Clerk M. F. Hunter today, Allan N. Gunter, of the prairie city, says he saw the band shell while he was visiting Victoria, and now would like to secure the architects' plans as his own city wishes to build a similar structure.

Diggon Says More Authority Sought By Transit Committee

Greater Victoria transportation committee members will seek broader authority for their negotiations with the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., and Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd., over demands for fare increases, Ald. H. M. Diggon, committee chairman, said today.

Ald. Diggon is seeking a system whereby committee members will have the authority to meet transit company representatives and reach some form of agreement with them which, in turn, will be taken back to the respective councils of Greater Victoria for ratification.

Such a move would eliminate the present process which slows down negotiations by requiring the various representatives to go back to their municipalities to obtain a decision on the various matters which might lead up to a mutual agreement between the committee and transit companies.

Police Wage Decision To Be Revealed Shortly

City police union expects to get the results of negotiations with an arbitration board for wage increases within the next few days.

The board has rendered its decision and tendered it to the Department of Labor, according to Brent Murdoch, chairman.

It is expected the police will be awarded some increase, but probably not what representatives asked for.

Employees in other departments of the city are anxiously waiting to see what the award will be as it may result in new wage negotiations with these departments.

The annual basket picnic of the Victoria Unit No. 12, Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada will be held at Goldstream Park, Aug. 14. Buses will leave the Wharf St. entrance at 10. Tickets must be picked up at the club not later than Aug. 9.

World Realizing International Trade Must Be Two-Way In Scope

By CANADIAN PRESS
If a Canadian sells an American a piece of lumber and gets back a crate of oranges, it obviously raises the standard of living of both.

One already has more than enough lumber, the other more than enough oranges. If they exchange, the Canadian can have his orange juice and the American can fix up his veranda.

That, in a capsule, is international trade.

Not so long ago countries thought most of virtue was in selling, and little of it in buying. Fortunately for the hopes of world trade, the view is changing, but there is room for further change, perhaps particularly in the United States which has been the classic seller and non-buyer. It worked for her for a while for a variety of reasons. But now, partly because of the war and partly because of her past tariff policy, she is in effect virtually giving away many things instead of getting back goods for her citizens.

The current monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia deals at length with the United States tariff. It finds that she has made substantial reductions since her higher-tariff days, but concludes that she needs to make further changes if Canada is to maintain a high level of purchases from her.

"The principle of automatically extending tariff concessions to all other countries which follow the same practice is in itself highly desirable. If, however, it is to serve its intended purpose, an abandonment or relaxation of strict bargaining procedures on the part of the United States appears to be essential."

Ottawa Considering Trans-Canada Road

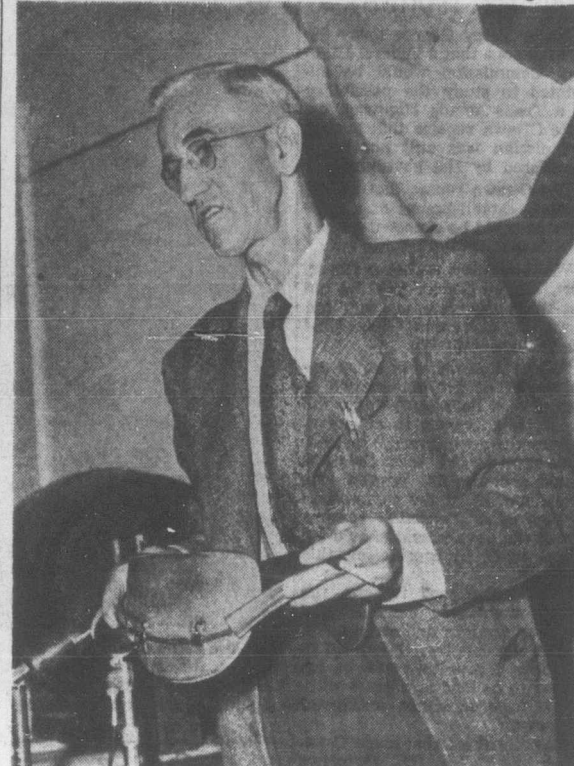

CALGARY, (CP)—Officials of the Calgary Board of Trade disclosed Tuesday that appointment of a federal highway commission to make plans for an all-Canadian trans-continental highway is under consideration.

Board officials said Resources Minister James A. MacKinnon had promised to support enactment of legislation to set up the commission.

In a letter to the Moose Jaw City Commissioner, which has been forwarded here, Mr. MacKinnon said "I shall do my best to see that the resolution (asking for a commission) is implemented as early a date as possible."

Boards of Trade across the country submitted a resolution to federal authorities recently asking for the commission as the first step in construction of a hard-surface highway from coast to coast.

Can Cure Arthritis In 6 Months, Chemist Says

L. F. Green tells an audience at the Esquimalt Legion Hall he cured himself of arthritis by developing a treatment for the disease.

Lou F. Green, Port Alberni chemist, who claims to have developed a cure for arthritis, declared Tuesday he was not afraid of the government committee appointed by Health Minister George S. Pearson to investigate his treatment.

"I'm not afraid of the government probe," he told a large audience in the Esquimalt Canadian Legion Hall. The hall was loaned to Green to speak to those seeking cures for arthritic and rheumatic diseases.

"The question is whether the committee will find if I have done enough good to carry on with my work," he stated. "I'm only doing this to help those who are suffering from pain."

Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt introduced the speaker. The audience, composed of people mostly suffering from one form or another of arthritis, filled the Legion Hall to the main doorway. Many others stood outside or sat in cars and listened to Mr. Green through loud speakers set up for the occasion.

Mr. Green said his treatment for arthritis would cure a person in six months or less. The medicine which he had developed was made up of vital elements necessary for good health, he explained.

"I HAVE FOUND A CURE"
Mr. Green said in order to discover a successful cure for arthritis a person had to turn himself into a guinea pig. "I have been a guinea pig," he said, "and through tests and experiments I have found a cure."

He related that he began suffering the first form of the rheumatic disease in 1926. He stated that he battled the sickness for years but without success.

On his own initiative and with the support of his friends, he said he began to search for a cure by undergoing a series of tests and keeping records of all reactions and results.

"I tried everything," he said. "In many cases I had to take antidotes. Finally, after two and a half years, I found a cure which made me well again."

"See these limbs," said the speaker. "I can now move them with ease. My elbows had lumps on them. Now they are gone. I don't have to follow a diet or take medicine."

Mr. Green said the only reason he was giving treatments was because people had come to him and asked him to try his cure on them.

"I'm not making money on this," he told his listeners. "I haven't slept more than three and a half hours a night for weeks in order to make the solution for sick people."

He disclosed that he had close to 1,000 patients. At least 60 per cent of these were getting some relief, he added.

"Suppose they never get any better than that," he said, "isn't that enough. I'm chiefly interested in relieving people from pain so that they can sleep without difficulty."

Stating that he was not attempting to cast a reflection on the medical profession, Mr. Green said he had cured a 17-year-old girl whom doctors had given up as incurable. "I had a perfect right to help her," he said, "when she came to me. Today she is in good health."

People suffering from arthritis were not eating the proper food, he explained, or were not eating a balanced diet.

Scots' Pipe Band To Pay Seattle Visit

An honor guard and the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) will invade Seattle August 13, 14 and 15 for the Caledonia Games. Capt. S. E. Park will be commander, Capt. D. S. Digby, second in command.

Pipe-Maj. Andrew Pollock is in charge of the band and RQMS. James Sutherland, president of the Scottish Regiment Association, will be senior warrant officer of the contingent.

Washington Wreck Yields 2 Bodies

MCHORD FIELD, Wash. (AP)—Bodies of two navy men have been found in the wreckage of their civilian plane on Mount Daniel about 30 miles north of Cle Elum, it was reported by radio to this field.

The wreckage is that of a single-engine plane en route from Whidbey Island, June 20. Navy officials state that the men were J. A. Henry, Lewiston, Ida., and A. E. Brown, Los Angeles.

DENTAL WHITENESS

Don't you admire the way a dentist cleans your teeth so white? That's real dental whiteness; and he relies on powder. For unless dull, dingy film is removed, it hardens—darkens—turns into harmful, ugly tartar. But Pepsodent Tooth Powder is especially made with Irium to safely remove that trouble-causing film...right in your own home. Change today to Pepsodent Tooth Powder for dental whiteness!

The difference is IRIRIUM—and

FRANKFORT QUAILES (Yield: 4 servings)
1 lb. Premium Franks 1/4 lb. Brookfield Cheese
1/2 lb. Swift's Premium Bacon
Make a lengthwise slit in the frankfurts. Fill with 1/4-inch stick of sharp cheese cut 1/4-inch shorter than frankfurts. Wrap each frankfurts spiral fashion, with a whole slice of bacon, fastening each end with a toothpick. Place split side up in a baking dish. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) for 20 minutes. Turn if necessary, or the quails may be broiled for about 12 minutes. Serve with vegetables.

All the meat in Swift's Premium Franks is DINNER-QUALITY and they are ALL pork and beef with just the right, spicy flavouring to tempt your palate!

Here's a main dish for your main meal the whole family will applaud—and cooked in a jiffy! Serve Swift's Premium Franks—juicy, tender, taste-tempting! Nothing like them ever before—all tender beef and juicy pork! Fresh, digestible! Enjoy these plump, juicy taste-tempters this very day and serve them often. They're quick and so easy to prepare. Get them with all their natural goodness protected in the new cellophane wrapper.

City Woman Faces Problem After Quiz Show Triumph

Who tamed the shrew in Shakespeare's play, "The Taming of the Shrew"? Do geranium plants grow from seeds or bulbs? Is Sam Rayburn a member of the House or Senate? Who discovered penicillin? What state was named after a French monarch?

For knowing the answers to these and other general knowledge questions, a Victoria housewife, Mrs. Helen Carter won a truckload of valuable prizes on an American quiz show, "Winner Take All."

Mrs. Carter, who is visiting relatives in the eastern United States with her nine-month-old son, appeared on the show Monday and Tuesday of this week while on a short side trip to New York City, where the program originates.

Carried across the continent by the Columbia Broadcasting System, the program was heard by many of Mrs. Carter's friends here over station KIRO, Seattle. "You keep on playing as long as you keep on winning," the master-of-ceremonies told Mrs. Carter when she was selected from the studio audience. Mrs. Carter took him at his word; made a clean sweep of that day's prizes, and returned the following day for some more.

LASTED SIX ROUNDS

Competing with a school teacher, a student and other housewives, Mrs. Carter answered 20 questions correctly and before her opponents during the time she was on the program. She lasted for six full rounds. The record holder lasted 17.

Mrs. Carter finally went down in competition with a lady from Washington, D.C., on the question: "Martin Luther established the Lutheran Church. What was his nationality?"

Taking stock afterwards, Mrs. Carter found herself with a vacuum cleaner, a diamond ring, a refrigerator, a new range, a chest of drawers, a wood-metal sink with built-in cabinets, a writing desk, a typewriter and a coffee table with a built-in fan.

"Here's a lady who really knows something," the announcer said before waving Mrs. Carter good-bye. "I'll bet the people up in Canada are mighty proud of you."

What Mrs. Carter intends to do with her prizes is not known here but she will find herself up against difficulties if she wants to bring them back to Victoria with her.

Uncle RayYOUNG SPIDERS MAKE LONG TRIPS THROUGH THE AIR

No wings are found on the body of any spider, but there are spider aviators. For countless centuries spiders have been making trips through the air.

Young spiders are the aviators, and they use the wind. They are so small and light that they weigh "hardly anything," and they are born with a knowledge of how to travel by air.

A baby spider climbs to a high place. This may be the top of a tall weed or bush, a fence post, or the trunk of a tree.

Spinning out a thread, the little spider lets it be caught by the wind. The thread may be several feet long.

Sometimes the thread touches a branch, wire, or other object, and that spoils the trial. Again a thread is spun out, and this one may be caught by the wind, lifting the spider with it.

Upward currents of air are to be found, as well as cross currents and down currents. If a good upward current is at work, the spider may rise above the treetops, and may be taken thousands of feet before being dropped.

The air voyages of spiders serve a special purpose. They spread young spiders around, very much as wind spreads seeds of trees and some other plants. If the young ones stayed close to the home of the mother spider, and later raised new broods of their own, there would be too many spiders for the food supply at that place. Instead of doing that, the young ones make air journeys.

The thread spun by a young spider tends to be pulled out by the wind so that it becomes even thinner than the average thread. People often speak of this thin thread as "gossamer," and we hear of "gossamer spiders." It must be remembered, however, that most kinds of spiders (not just one kind) are aviators while they are young. People on ocean vessels more than 200 miles from shore have reported seeing gossamer threads falling on the decks.

Body Of Drowned Boy Found In Lake

Body of 18-year-old Raymond Henderson, 2701 Belmont Avenue, the non-swimmer who was drowned last Saturday in Prospect Lake, was recovered from the lake waters Tuesday afternoon about 4.30.

An inquest will be held this week at the Thomson Funeral

Home, where the funeral service will be held.

The 12th grade high school student was being towed by a boat rowed by his friend, Allan Davies, 14, 1462 Walnut Street, at about 5.30 Saturday afternoon when he lost his hold and went down.

A search party headed by Sgt. Cecil Pearce of the Saanich police used light dragging equipment Saturday evening and throughout Sunday and a diver Monday without success. By using heavy drag chains yesterday to penetrate the heavy silt layer on the lake floor, contact was finally made with the body.

Constables Robert Coleman, Walter Mycock, Les Ledson and David Shepherd were other policemen who took part in the search.

The body was found in 30 feet of water, about 25 feet from where it was estimated the boy went down.

Suffrage Leader Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Rosika Schwimmer, 70, a candidate for the 1948 Nobel Peace Prize, died Tuesday. Long a suffrage leader, pacifist and exponent of world government, Miss Schwimmer claimed she persuaded Henry Ford to finance his 1915 peace ship to Europe.

'Escape Me Never' On Atlas Screen

In Warner Bros. "Escape Me Never," opening today at the Atlas, Ida Lupino plays the mother of an eleven-month-old baby. Because the law reads that a baby of that age can only work two hours a day before cameras, smart Warner Bros. engaged identical twins, David and Michael Chubb for the role. Pay was the same for both babies.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Hollywood always likes to get at least one Englishman into its stories about the west. Roddy McDowall played in all of the Filka films; Peggy Cummins recently finished "Green Grass of Wyoming," and now along comes Reginald Gardiner as an army captain in "Fury at Furnace Creek," a story of Arizona in the 1880's. The film, starring Victor Mature and Coleen Gray, is currently at the Capitol Theatre.

Dapper, sartorially perfect, Gardiner is fulfilling one of the dreams of his life. In the film, he fights Injuns in the badlands of Utah, and he's a regular two-gun he-man.

Northwest Stampede On Odeon Screen

Filmed against the majestic grandeur of Canada's wonder vacation land "Northwest Stampede" opens today at the Odeon Theatre. A thrilling motion picture in glorious color, starring fiery red head Joan Leslie and James Craig with comedy supplied by Jack Oakie and Chill Wills. Scenes of the Calgary Stampede which shows the skill and competition of cowboys, roping of cows, bronco riding and racing of chuck wagons is all part of the entertainment in "Northwest Stampede."

OAK BAY THEATRE

"Nightmare Alley," William Lindsay Gresham's comment-stirring novel of a cheap carnival barker who exploits others to pull himself into the big-time, is now at the screen at the Oak Bay Theatre, presenting Tyrone Power in a new type of characterization that deviates sharply from any role he has previously attempted. As Stan Carlisle, he is a ruthless, unprincipled fellow who cheats and lies his way to becoming "The Great Stanton," mentalist, leaving in his path broken lives and broken hearts.

YORK THEATRE

Henry King, director of Darryl F. Zanuck's presentation of "Captain From Castle," which is now at the York Theatre, now knows exactly how King Richard of bygone days felt when he offered his kingdom for a horse. Most of the Twentieth Century-Fox filmization was photographed on location in Mexico in Technicolor. After 15 weeks of shooting below the Rio Grande, there still remained scenes to be shot at the Twentieth Century-Fox studio, in one of which Tyrone Power appeared on the same horse he had used in the earlier sequences filmed in Mexico.

C. R. Vint, president of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co. Ltd., announces the promotion of Frank W. Hill to the position of acting general sales manager, following the promotion of R. A. Hart to the foreign division of the company.

James Mason Unlike James Mason Type, Just Doesn't Care

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This may come as a shock to you, but James Mason isn't the James Mason type.

I mean that Mason in real life doesn't much resemble the arrogant, dame-slugging character in which his public identifies him. When I took tea with him, he seemed soft-spoken, solicitous of his wife's condition (pregnant) and generally as normal as a movie star can be.

The Masons live in the plushier district of Beverly Hills. Upon entering the place, you encounter a variety of the famed Mason cats. When the tea was brewed and the cats cleared out, I asked the actor if he were put out at being pegged as the "James Mason type."

"It really doesn't bother me," began Mason. "Actually, I have played only four such parts in some 30-odd pictures.

"There is a type of fan who conceives of a player in a standard type of cliché. I am not interested in that type of fan. I don't care if the so-called fans see me in something different and say, 'Nyah, he stinks.' I have always figured I would be able to find some kind of acting work."

Mason is sligher than I expected and more handsome than he photographs.

The actor hasn't made a picture since "The Upturned Glass" two years ago, but the absence doesn't worry him.

His wife accused him of picking his films by such caprices as the nearness of the studio to home and the possibility of disposing of some cats among the company.

The long-range Mason plan is to make films on both continents. He'll make "The King's General" here after the enterprise film.

ROYAL THEATRE

Van Heflin, who co-stars with Barbara Stanwyck in "B. F.'s Daughter," current attraction at the Royal Theatre, was born in Walters, Oklahoma, and came to films following his Broadway stage success with Katharine Hepburn in "The Philadelphia Story." He won the Academy Award for the best male supporting performance in "Johnny Eager," and has recently scored in "Green Dolphin Street."

RIO THEATRE

Maria Ouspenskaya, graduate of the Moscow Art Theatre, student of the famed Russian director Richard Boleslavsky, plays the role of a pioneer woman in Republic's "Wyoming" now showing at the Rio Theatre. Rated as one of the finest character actresses, this diminutive little woman—she is four feet 11 inches tall weighing 100 pounds—has had a distinguished career on the stage both here and abroad.

GORING, Oxfordshire—Capt. Sir Beachcroft Towse, 84, who won the V.C. twice in three months while serving with the Gordon Highlanders in the South African War, died. He was blinded while winning the second V.C.

Leisen Forecasts Oscar For Hutton

Betty Hutton has already received the Mitchell Leisen award as the best actress of 1948—and, if history repeats itself as it should, the Academy Award "Oscar" will soon be standing on the Hutton mantelpiece.

Two years ago, immediately following completion of "To Each His Own," Director Mitchell Leisen presented the picture's star, Olivia DeHavilland, with a small gold "Oscar" for her outstanding performance.

Leisen's prophecy came true, and Olivia received the Academy award as the most outstanding actress of 1946.

Recently, Leisen made the second presentation of what he terms his "own private award"—this time to Betty Hutton for her brilliant characterization of Georgina Allerton in Paramount's "Dream Girl," coming today to the Royal Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE

Produced by Warner Bros., "A Slight Case of Murder," starring Edward G. Robinson, which spotlights gangsterism and racketeering, has been booked for a special return showing at the Plaza Theatre today. It is a different Robinson who is seen in this gangster film, but he's still the gun-toting menace usually associated with his personality.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"Escape Me Never," starring Ida Lupino.

CAPITOL—"Fury at Furnace Creek," starring Victor Mature.

DOMINION—"A Midsummer Night's Dream," starring Olivia De Havilland.

OAK BAY—"Nightmare Alley," starring Tyrone Power.

ODEON—"Northwest Stampede," starring Joan Leslie.

PLAZA—Edward G. Robinson in "A Slight Case of Murder."

RIO—"Wyoming," starring William Elliot.

ROYAL—"Dream Girl," starring Betty Hutton and MacDonald Carey.

YORK—"Tyrone Power in 'Captain From Castle.'"

It is a different Robinson who is seen in this gangster film, but he's still the gun-toting menace usually associated with his personality.

Here he portrays an ex-beer runner who decides to go "legitimate" and become a high-grade brewer. Events move at a brisk gait when his former pals move into his Saratoga residence and set off a riotous shooting melee.

Fishing Closure Extended For Fraser

VANCOUVER (CP)—The federal fisheries department announced Tuesday weekly closed season for sockeye fishing in the Fraser River will be increased to 72 hours this week.

Extension of the closed period is in the interests of salmon conservation.

The International Pacific Salmon

MEGANTIC FIREBOARD—A good quality insulating fireboard, a full 1-1/2 inch thick it can be nailed right to studs and is easily cut to size. Makes a great fireproofing for walls, ceilings, floors, etc. in any room where a warm, sound, and durable wallboard is required. Can also be easily cut for a plaster base. All 4 ft. x 8 ft. sheets, now selling for 64c square foot. In lots of 1,000 square feet or more, only 60c square foot.

SHIPBOARD—Now available, 100,000 square feet of shipboard, in grades B and better common. Order early.

INSULATION—Try the new Gyprose wool batts, completely encased in vapor proof barrier, easy and pleasant to handle. No increase in price. From 10c to 15c per gallon, which really counts with present high costs.

ROOF COATINGS—Now is the season to apply roof coatings to flat roofs and roll roofing jobs. PLASTIC SEAL, brush it on cold flat roof out of the can, contains asbestos fibres, gives new life to old roofs. Per gallon, $1.50. In 5-gallon lots, $6.50 per gallon. By the barrel, $13.50 per gallon.

ROOF CEMENT—A similar material without the fibres. Brush it on right from the can. Per gallon, $1.50; 5-gallon lots, $6.50 per gallon. Drums, $10.00 per gallon.

ROLL ROOFINGS—2-Ply, 100 sq. ft. inc. nails and tar $2.15; 3-Ply, 100 sq. ft. inc. nails and tar $2.69. Mineral Surfaced Roofing, any color, inc. nails and tar, $1.69.

"W" EMULSION—A thin liquid waterproofing for exterior basement walls. Apply before backfilling dirt. Per gallon, $1.35. 5-gallon lots, per gallon, $1.15.

ARMOURITE—Basement waterproofing for all interior walls. A white powder to be mixed with water and applied to interior walls for all basements. 2-lb. can, $1.05; 5-lb. can, $1.50; 15-lb. can, $3.75; 75-lb. can, $15.00.

ARMOURCOAT—A beautiful lasting, economical finish for exterior stucco, concrete, brick, masonry, fish pools, etc. Easy to mix and apply. Many choices of colors. 4-lb. can, $1.00; 14-lb. can, $3.25; 65-lb. can, $13.00.

JUST ARRIVED—Beaverboard and Kenmore wallboard, a lightweight cream colored wallboard for applying over se-joint, ship-lap, cracked plaster, etc.

CORRUGATED FIREBOARD—4 ft. x 8 ft. sheets, only 80c each. Screen Doors at sacrifice prices! Full screen at $2.85 each; partial screen at $1.75 each.

Advertise in the TimesEarly Appointment Of Highway Board Reported Unlikely

OTTAWA (CP)—An authoritative government source Tuesday night said that despite "considerable agitation" there would be no immediate legislation to meet calls for a federal commission to plan a trans-continental highway for Canada.

A spokesman said that Resources Minister MacKinnon has received both deputations and letters from Boards of Trade "particularly in the west" requesting that legislation be enacted for the commission's appointment.

"The government has done nothing about these requests and is not planning legislation for such a commission," the source said.

(Victoria City Council Monday afternoon passed a resolution urging the Dominion government to establish a Federal Highway Commission to deal with the question of a Trans-Canada Highway.)

Sweden Hopes To Win Support Of Norway For Neutrality Plan

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Working hard for the neutralization of Scandinavia, Sweden is optimistic that she will win Norway over to her course in any war between east and west.

While Norway has been eager to keep her doors open to military co-operation with the western powers, Sweden has repeatedly proclaimed her intention to maintain "armed neutrality" in any third world war.

Across this dividing line of neutrality a tug-of-war has been going on for some time between the two governments. It is watched with some anxiety by both the western powers and by Russia, which has for several decades been blasting away with its big propaganda guns against the idea of a "Nordic block."

Discussions for a Scandinavian alliance, initiated by Sweden, have been in process since May. The western powers are understood to have repeatedly, although informally, expressed their concern to Sweden over her attempts to win Norway for neutrality.

Swedish sources say Foreign Secretary Bevin told the Swedish ambassador in London, Eric Boheman, on June 21, that Scandinavia's chances of remaining neutral in a new war were slight.

Russ. Seek Danube Control By Communist-Ruled States

BELGRADE (AP)—The Russians today presented their draft plan which would give Communist-ruled states of eastern Europe exclusive control over the Danube.

Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky presented the proposal to the Danube conference, where the Russian bloc outvotes Britain, the United States and France seven to three.

He demanded what he called "protection" of the sovereign rights of the Danubian States over the 1,800-mile waterway, the major one in central Europe. Each participating country would have immediate control of the waters of its own borders.

Vishinsky explained the Soviet draft point by point. He asserted it would do away with the "privileged position" given non-Danubian states by the 1921 Paris convention for control of the river's shipping.

SAFEGUARD RIGHTS

He asserted the Russian plan would "fully satisfy the requirements of justice, safeguard sovereign rights and withhold unjustified privileges for non-Danubian states."

London Talk Links Princess Margaret With Lord Blandford

LONDON (AP)—Talk about a possible new royal romance has London society all abuzz today. The talk links Princess Margaret with the Marquess of Blandford, handsome, 22-year-old cousin of Winston Churchill.

The princess, who becomes of age (18) on Aug. 21, has been seen in the company of Lord Blandford frequently since he returned from duty in the Middle East as a lieutenant in the Life Guards.

He is a son of the 10th Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, whose estate, Blenheim Palace, is said to be the largest private home in England.

Princess Margaret, palace circles report, has said frankly that she wants to marry "when I meet the right man."

Security Council Hears Yugoslav Charges On Trieste

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The Security Council met today to consider Yugoslav charges that Britain and the United States are plotting to give Trieste to Italy.

Yugoslav representative Joza Vilhan was scheduled to begin the session with a lengthy attack on the two western powers. He already has filed a memorandum accusing them of violating the Italian peace treaty in administering the free territory.

Both Britain and the United States are ready to give preliminary replies, at least, to the Yugoslav charges. Spokesmen for the two delegations indicated they would make strong counter-charges, blaming Yugoslavia and the Communists for most of the trouble in Trieste.

The United States representative, Philip C. Jessup, and British delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan are understood to take the position the developments in Trieste have made it impossible for the council to administer the territory as an international zone.

The Trieste case first came before the U.N. as the result of treaty provisions agreed on by the Council of Foreign Ministers later in 1946. The treaty provided Trieste would be administered by a governor to be appointed by the Security Council and the U.N. would guarantee the integrity of the territory.

RUSSIA REFUSED

Last spring during the Italian election campaign, Britain and the United States proposed to Russia that Trieste be given back to Italy. Russia refused. Informal quarters said Jessup probably would call attention to this offer. It is generally agreed no change could be made in the status of Trieste without the consent of the big powers.

Negro Held In Death Of Prison Guard

HOLDENVILLE, Okla. (AP)—W. H. Aston, 65, veteran Oklahoma state penitentiary guard, died today of injuries received when he was attacked by an inmate in the solitary wing of the McAlester state prison Friday.

Deputy Warden H. C. McLeod said Thomas Woods, 22, a negro serving 10 years for automobile theft, was being held in connection with the attack.

McLeod said that as Aston was checking the cell, Woods jumped on him, clutched the guard's throat and pounded his head against the bars and wall.

Missing Yacht Safe

HALIFAX (CP)—The tiny yacht Whisper, reported missing on a voyage from Yarmouth to Chester, N.S., made harbor safely at Chester today.

The craft, manned by Peter Stanford and Charles Detzen, believed to be from Maine, was reported missing after leaving Yarmouth Thursday.

Two R.C.A.F. Lancasters and the R.C.M.P. cutter Macbrien had taken part in the search.
